

Snowbound on Train Famous Comedian Becomes a Convert

Accepts Religion After Study of Bible and Will Give One-Tenth of His Income to Lord.

NEW YORK, March 1.—On his knees in the parsonage of a little church in Butte, Mont., Fred Stone, comedian whom pleasure-fond Broadway halls as its own, has pledged his daily life and a large part of his income to the Christ.

At the age of forty-nine and at the height of a unique career, Mr. Stone has decided to give a tenth of his large income to church and philanthropic work. He will continue on the stage. His income tax to the government is about $1,000 a week.

The comedian reached this decision a week ago as he sat musing in a sleeping car snowbound in the Dakotas with others of the "Top" company making for the Pacific Coast on tour. The company was held a week by the snow.

Mr. Stone had completed only a month before perhaps the happiest seven weeks of his career, when his daughter, Dorothy and his wife, Mrs. Allegra Crater Stone, had shared part of his tour.

On Stage with Daughter. Dorothy, a lovely agile creature had had her opportunity to show her talent. She had appeared for seven weeks inside with her father, with whom she will appear as a co-star next year. Father, mother and child had played together, worked together and shared the inconveniences of a road company as they had never done before.

Then Mrs. Stone and her daughter returned to the Stone-home in Forest Hills, Long Island, to complete Dorothy's course in dancing and singing. After those weeks came black loneliness. The comedian felt the need of something outside himself, not wholly dependent on time, fame, and life.

Purchases Bible. When the train reached Billings, Mr. Stone bought a Bible. By the time he reached Butte, Mont., where he was to perform Saturday evening, Feb. 17, he had made his decision.

The Rev. Cecil Leslie Clifford, to whom The World telegraphed for the story, telegraphed in reply: "To The World: Fred Stone entered my study at the Mountain View Methodist Episcopal Church, Saturday Feb. 17. He told me of having been snowbound a week in the Dakotas and thinking seriously of his personal responsibility toward God. At Billings he purchased a Bible and began to read and pray.

"He said his instincts were always good and that his playing was always wholesome and clean. Yet he realized something had been lacking in his life. I explained to him the meaning of Christianity and the necessity of faith in Jesus Christ and acceptance of His program. While on our knees Fred Stone gave his life to God.

"Mr. Stone attended services Sunday morning and listened to a sermon on the divine principles of property ownership. After the benediction he kissed the pastor's hand and said: 'I shall give one-tenth of my income to Christian work.'

"He attended Sunday School and contributed $70 to the school and the church. He ascended the pulpit and told his life story and his decision. He told of his early home in Denver, his experience on the plains. Twenty years before he was baptized in the Methodist church, but since had scarcely attended service, he declared: 'I am now determined to live a Christian life,' he said. 'I mean to be true to this decision to the end of the trail.'

"Fred Stone then fell upon his knees at the altar and while every head was bowed reverently he repeated the Lord's Prayer he had learned in childhood."

Rep. Cochrane Dies Suddenly

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 1.—Representative W. Burk Cochrane, Democrat, New York, died suddenly today. Mr. Cochrane celebrated his 69th birthday yesterday, became ill last night and died early today. He was on the floor last night and made a speech against the pending farm credit bill. Mr. Cochrane's death which occurred at 7:10 came as a result of a stroke of apoplexy, it was said at his home.

Tapestry Purchase Stirs France

When it became known that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had purchased for $1,000,000 the famous La Tucheoufoucaud tapestries, the fire of the French press was aroused. They charged that the owner had agreed never to permit the art treasures to leave France. The tapestries date from 1450.

LUMPKIN AGAIN FAILS TO BE NAMED AS P. O. ELIGIBLE

Right on the heels of expressions of assurance that there would be "nothing doing" in the Danville postmaster's impasse from Republicans of this city yesterday, developments took place in Washington. At the very time that the belief was expressed that F. D. Lumpkin's chances of being finally confirmed were bright, the Civil Service Commission at Washington was submitting the names of three men to Postmaster General Work at Washington any of whom are eligible for the local post.

The name of Mr. Lumpkin was not among them. The three men named were Charles C. Pollok for many years supervisor of mails at the Danville postoffice and a valued attaché, C. C. Burton who is connected with a local warehouse and who has measured up to the qualifications and Meade R. Flynn, formerly a postoffice attaché and for several years United States commissioner. Messrs. Pollok and Burton are Democrats while Mr. Flynn is a Republican.

The failure to include the name of Mr. Lumpkin was because he had for the second time failed to pass the necessary examination to which all candidates for postmaster must submit. This season assigned for Mr. Lumpkin's failure to receive marks which would make him eligible in the eyes of the Civil Service because some ten or twelve years ago his dismissal was recommended by postoffice inspectors on the ground of "incompetency."

Mr. Lumpkin was seen today and he expressed no surprise over the result of events in Washington. He said that he had expected this and he did not appear to be concerned over the failure of the Civil Service Commission to include him among the list of eligibles. According to Mr. Lumpkin's theory he is a marked man in the eyes of the commission.

That a Democratic influence holds sway over the commission and that it would be unprecedented for the commission having once refused to certify him as eligible to reverse its ruling.

Asked what new will happen regarding the Danville postmaster's impasse, Mr. Lumpkin expressed the belief that the list of eligibles will be submitted to Congressman J. Ascom Stimp and State Republican Chairman Crutcher who will be asked to name the man they want given the postmaster's position. None of the three, Mr. Lumpkin holds, will be found satisfactory to the Republican organization and the list will be returned to the Civil Service without an "O. K." Then, in all likelihood, Mr. Stimp will be asked to say why none of them are satisfactory and the spokesman for Virginia Republican patronage will be given an opportunity of expressing himself. Then the list will be pigeonholed and Danville will be no nearer having a postmaster than it was a week ago.

Mr. Lumpkin holds that the situation is no nearer a solution by yesterday's action. He maintains that nothing can be done towards settling the issue as long as the Republican majority holds in the Senate, that is unless some compromise were reached and the Republicans were to agree to a Democratic influence in the present administration.

Friends of Charlie Pollok are still hopeful, however, that they can win the post for him on the application of the Civil Service rules which base recommendations on merit coupled with his high rating and the additional advantage of knowing the ins and outs of postoffice service. If the appointment is made on sheer merit they cannot see how he can fail to win it. In the event of the predicted change in methods expected to be made when Senator New assumes control of the postoffice department March 4th at which time party service and devotion are expected to be the controlling factor in settling post office contests, then, friends of the present acting postmaster say, Mr. Lumpkin will win.

Cecil De Mille's Yacht Seized by Dry Agents

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—The yacht Seaward, owned by Cecil B. de Mille, motion picture director, as seized by Federal prohibition agents today at Los Angeles harbor and Captain Edward McNary arrested for alleged failure to declare 30 quarts of liquor on board. The vessel was placed under guard pending disposition of the charge.

ELTINGE NABBED ON DRY CHARGE

SEATTLE, Feb. 28.—Julian Eltinge, the actor, and four other members of a theatrical troupe must appear before United States Marshal E. B. Kenn tomorrow and explain their possession of 16 quarts of liquor. It was announced today. The liquor was seized Sunday night when the five disembarked from a steamer arriving from Vancouver, British Columbia.

Before customs officials, the quintet paid fines totaling $80 for violation of the customs laws. Later they were formally arrested by prohibition agents.

Six Men On U. S. Destroyer Burned To Death

(By The Associated Press)
MANHATTAN, March 1.—Six enlisted men on the U. S. destroyer Hubbard of the Asiatic fleet were burned to death in an explosion in the boiler room caused by a flare back of oil. No others were injured.

FIREMEN RECEIVE CALL

Firemen were called yesterday evening to the home of J. R. Hutson, 815 Green street, where the weather boarding was found to be ignited at a point where it joined the brick foundation. The damage done was negligible.

At first headquarters it was said that some work had been done to the pipes in the house during the early afternoon and that a spark from a torch might have caused the small fire.

Physician Names "Best Friend" As Co-Respondent In Divorce Suit

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Dr. Harry Rosenkrantz has a surprising nature. He admits it. Not once in the ten years has he been married. Dr. Samuel Rosenberg, made the Rosenkrantz drama at No. 33 East 57th street his headquarters, told Dr. Rosenkrantz, suspect that Dr. Rosenberg was there to see him. Of course, Dr. Rosenberg liked Mrs. Rosenkrantz too, but why not?

It was only after Mrs. Rosenkrantz took the two children and went to her parents' home, at No. 388 Fairmont avenue, Newark, N. J., that her husband's trusting nature became less trusting. He hoped a lot of things from neighbors that he hadn't heard before. Through his attorneys Green & Striker, No. 33 Park Row, he filed suit for divorce, naming Dr. Rosenberg as co-respondent. He is asking for the custody of his daughter, Ruth, ten, and Bernard, five.

Dr. Rosenberg, who lives at No. 314 East Fifth street, was married two years ago and is the father of a child.

Youth Held For Theft Of Horse

Jesse Dowdy is being held by the local police on charges of larceny of a horse from his father, J. E. Dowdy, of rear Altavista, and a saddle from Henry Deering, colored. Dowdy was arrested early this morning by Police Officer Foster T. Harris on Main street. He was at the time riding the animal, which seemed almost exhausted. The horse was walking leisurely down Main street about 1:30 o'clock. Harris halted Dowdy and began questioning him. The youth talked in a confused manner and appeared a bit nervous and the officer decided to detain him.

At the courthouse Dowdy finally said he might as well tell the truth, and told of a long journey on horseback and revealed that he has stolen the horse and saddle. Dowdy said he had rode the animal from near Altavista to Reidsville and back to Danville. He said he was intending to return to Reidsville and then planned to go to Richmond. He later stated that he was going as far as he could with the horse and then sell it in order to obtain money on which to live. Dowdy said that he left home several days ago following a quarrel with his father. He later stated that he returned to Altavista Tuesday. He went back home and took his father's horse while the parent slept and stopped at Deering's house and took the saddle. He then started to ride. This was about one o'clock Tuesday night and the animal has been on the go almost constantly since that time until early this morning when Dowdy was arrested.

Building Fund Is Mounting Swiftly

A splendid response to the appeal for $30,000 necessary to make needed improvements to the Sunday school quarters of Mount Vernon church, continues to be noted and last night at the midweek prayer meeting, a total of $29,300 was reported. The campaign was started last Sunday and by the end of that day nearly $25,000 had been pledged. The money is payable over a period of two years.

The end of the week is expected to see the total overhauled.

COTTON MARKET

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 1.—The cotton market made a steady showing early today. Early cables from Liverpool were a shade lower than due to old crop months but press advices said it was doubtful if Lancashire would adopt the short time proposal and there was some buying here on report of exports from Liverpool.

Cotton futures opened steady.

California Taps Golden Gusher; Well Is Now Spouting $35,000 a Day

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—The greatest oil strike in the history of California fields was made today. A well known as Rider No. 1, on the property of the Petroleum Midway Company, at Signal Hill, Long Beach, broke away and began spouting an estimated output of between 20,000 and 25,000 barrels, worth approximately $35,000 a day.

The well has been producing between 4,000 and 5,000 barrels a day for the past three months.

Henry Wallerstein Declares Senator Struck Him from Behind Without Any Cause.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Harry Wallerstein, overseas soldier and chief co-ordinator of the United States Veterans' Bureau, who was severely beaten up by Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, yesterday, near the Shoreham hotel, will sue the senator for $100,000, he announced last night.

"I consider the act cowardly," Wallerstein told friends, to whom he also confided his plans for financial recovery on grounds of "malicious assault and battery and for humiliation caused by the attack."

The attack took place after Wallerstein jostled the senator on a Mount Pleasant street car yesterday morning.

Their stories are widely divergent as to the cause, but both agree on the main point that Senator Caraway demolished his umbrella over Wallerstein's head and had him on the ground when the belligerents were pulled apart.

Wallerstein, about 30 years old and of slight frame, presented a badly lacerated face and a swollen hand as he explained the encounter. He said:

"I did not insult him. I was standing on a very crowded car, leaning against a seat. Senator Caraway was in the seat. As the car gave a lurch, I was forced against his back. He turned and gave me a vicious shove."

"I told him that it was altogether unavoidable and that he need not be so rough about something over which I had no control. I moved away as far as I could and had forgotten the matter until I went to leave the car."

This man, who would make more than two of me, struck me from behind with his umbrella and continued to strike me about the face until his umbrella was broken. When I tried to defend myself he threw me to the ground and choked me until I was compelled to beg for my life."

Senator Caraway declared Wallerstein continued to push his hat down over the Senator's eyes while he was seated in the car, and when he remonstrated invited the senator to leave the car. As he did so Senator Caraway declares, Wallerstein struck him forcefully in the jaw with his fist. It was at this point, he said, that he employed the umbrella.

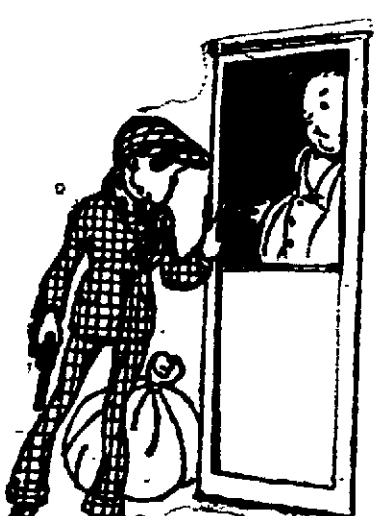

Good Morning Judge!

Allen Garland was the only prospective contributor in the police court this morning, but even at that he did not contribute for he was unable to pay his fine and was compelled to go to jail to serve out his five dollars and costs, worth, imposed for "riding the rods." Allen was taken on a passenger train from Lynchburg. He had been informed by authorities at Lynch City that a man was hobnobbing South.

A case, charging Major Carter with a disorderly conduct, continued until tomorrow.

A warrant against Jessie charging him with stealing a saddle from his father, J. E. Dowdy, was continued also.

This wound up the brief of the court which was in session about fifteen minutes.

Wonderful Results from Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Beloit, Wis.—"My female trouble was brought on by overwork. I had worked in stores and had to do heavier work than my strength could stand, and had to be on my feet most of the time. Finally I had to give up this work entirely and stay at home. Doctor's medicine did not give me much relief, and my mother wanted me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took a couple of bottles of it and thought it did not help me as much as it should, so I gave it up to try something else. Nothing I took helped me much, so I finally decided to give the Vegetable Compound another trial and to take enough of it to make sure it would help me. I have taken it over a year now and it has brought wonderful results. I have gained from 35 to 110 pounds and am keeping house now.
My friends all notice the change in my health. I will be glad to answer all letters that women write to me about

Chamber Turns
Down Bond Boost

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting attended by ten of the members yesterday afternoon took into consideration a resolution said to have been passed by the Danville Automobile Association and to have been before the Chamber. It was merely a formal propaganda resolution in advocacy of the issue of road bonds by the State at the special session of the General Assembly which began its session yesterday. The resolution was in printed form and bore indications that it had been prepared and printed for introduction and action in any county of the State, and prominently in any city also,
though the word "county" was used after the blank space, to be filled in with the name of the county.

A motion to adopt this resolution was made and carried by a vote of State bonds to the amount of $12-500,000 for special legislative session was submitted and this brought the matter up for an informal discussion.
The members of the Chamber of Commerce as it soon developed, that while all may favor State bond issues when action on the question is deemed discreet or expedient, the present for agitation accordingly the board for a rather decisive vote declined to endorse the resolution, which was deemed of small practical value in any event, since it was reasonably assumed that a decided majority of at least one branch of the General Assembly was opposed to issuing bonds for road construction at the special session.

Lions Are Hosts
To Ladies Last
Evening At 'Y. W.'

The Lions Club "ladies night" meeting last evening at the Y. W. C.
A was a distinct success. The beautiful refreshments were served by the Lions Club and the ladies of the club. The program was varied and kind most fitting and the program of entertainment was varied and happily conceived. In the absence of President Harvey, in Washington the "nightingale" action" commission, Wayles Harrison presided and introduced the speakers.

William M. Black, of Lynchburg, District director of Lions, was the speaker of the evening, and he made a splendid address in two parts—the first part being an exposition of Lionism, the second and exhortation of Germany and her methods, and eulogistic of France, commending that nation for her course in Germany to force reparations payment.

In presenting Lionism the speaker spoke of service as the greatest proprietor of any Lion-service as opposed to selfishness—which he held up as the apotheosis of all the vices, while service represented all the virtues.
And each Lion was depicted as a unit, an integral part of a beautiful and coherent mosaic—the Club—complete without every member in place. The speaker then turned ed work in developing the highest type of citizenship the speaker pointed out as axiomatic.

A large part of Mr. Black's address was taken up with a discourse on Franco-German affairs. He forgotten that America fought to save civilization from the Huns. The speaker showed that he had little patience with the sentimental sympathy for Germany that is going the rounds in certain quarters. He pleaded for a whole-hearted backing of the French in this perilous hour, because the French are still the bul-work of other peoples in holding back the selfish encroachments of the Teutons. All in all, it was a splendid speech and was received with interest and appreciation.

One of the most interesting features of the entertainment program was the running dialogue of two blackface comedians, Miss Mary Gunter and Miss Maude Brown, both of whom have made reputations in the character, and they well sustained them last night. Each member of the club came in for some gentle spoofing and the various "bits" were well, not to say uproariously, received.

Leon Taylor, who accompanied himself on the guitar, mimicked the birds in a whistling solo. Leon can play music as well as faces.
The program was capped with Chas. Gunter and his violin. Gunter does a number of things well, but he is never in better form than with his violin. He was recalled again and again last night by his hearers.
Mrs. Hugh Guernant accompanied
Mr. Gunter.

Among the visitors were Col. A. B.
Carlington, a Kwanian, and Harry Wooding, Confederate Veteran and Mayor of Danville. Both made speeches. Col. Carlington congratulated the Lions Club on its growth, which he said, he and his fellow Kwanians had watched with pleasure and he congratulated the city on the organization. It has been said that the Mayor has but one speech
—"It's a good one"—and last night he branched out and in happy mood made a talk of civic growth and development commending all Danvilleans for the spirit of co-operation and closing with a word of praise for

This McCormick Makes Own Living

BY ROY GIBBONS
CHICAGO, March 1.—Into the front entrance of an unpretentious apartment house reeking with the smell of fried potatoes and up three flights of stairs I went and entered compact fourrooms-and-kitchenette suite.

There to receive me was Muriel Mc-Cormick, granddaughter of John D.
Rockefeller, richest man in the world, and daughter of Harold P. McCormick, Chicago Harvester multimillionaire.

Muriel's been living there five months—since she fled from the Gold Coast home of her mother to escape
"an artificial life" and started her hat shop across the way.

I had called to see how the heiress was getting along in her new surroundings.

"She's contented,"
"I'm happy," said Muriel, looking out of her side window from which she can see the back doors and garbage cans of her former Gold Coast home. There's really nothing to be sentimental about of the change.

"I've been pampered and petted all my life. That's why I came here—to get away from it. This being on your own is the only way to live. It's American and independent."

"I derive all my living, you know,
from my store."

"You sell—dresses?" I interposed.

"No," said Muriel emphatically. "I sell gowns and hats. I design them, too. It keeps me busy, gives me something worth while to think about and yields me a comfortable living."

"Before, I was cooped up in the big house. Servants were everywhere, howling and howling."

"I tired of that, as any American girl would. I came here to escape people who bore me—servants especially."

"I could much rather run my little hat shop than sit all afternoon and play bridge. That's stupid."

"There's nothing about the simple life that wearies one. So long as you lay your head on clean pillows at night, it makes no difference whether they are silk or cotton."

his hosts.
Out of town guests last night included Mr. and Mrs. William M.
Black, of Lynchburg, Frank McVane and Mr. Harrison of Lynchburg.

ALVIN OWSLEY
WILL NOT COME TO THIS CITY

Alvin Owsley, national Commander
American Legion, has just received the Danville Post that it will be impossible for him to accept the invitation of the Post to speak here while he is in this state. He will make an address at Lexington March 3 and in Richmond March 4.

National Commander Owsley's letter follows:
Office of National Commander, Indianapolis, Indiana.
Commander of the American Legion, Danville, Virginia.
Dear Comrade:

I appreciate very much your kind invitation as outlined in your wire of February 14, and deeply regret that it is impossible for me to accept. I am sorry that I cannot allocate more time to your good representation until I have visited every state I wish it were possible for me to visit every post, as I realize each post is deeply interested in seeing their National Commander and hearing from him the program and policies of the Legion; however, you realize such is impossible. I am almost finding it impossible to visit each state post and make a few days' tour. I intention to the many problems which come to my attention daily. Please make up a party and visit my meeting nearest to your post, and then let me know that it may be possible to return to your department during the later part of my administration.

Sincerely yours,
(Sgd) Alvin Owsley

WELFARE ASS'N
WILL CLOSE EACH
SAT. AFTERNOON

The executive committee of the Community Welfare Association has approved the plan of closing the headquarters each Saturday at one o'clock and henceforth this rule will be followed. The purpose of this measure is to make it possible for the individual workers on being notified.

CANNERS MEET
IN ROANOKE, VA.

(By The Associated Press.)
ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 28.—The fourteenth annual convention of the Canners' Association of Virginia was brought to a close today with the election of five directors. The officers of the association will be elected at a meeting of the board of directors to be called by the president.

Directors who were elected today for a three year term were:
S. E. Price, Roanoke; E. W. Roynolds, Troutville; J. M. Mager, Manual; L. D. Johnson, Bedford; John Bowen, Bedford. The following directors will continue to serve out their terms:

W. W. Gillespie, Bedford; R. F.
McMann, Cloverdale; E. E. Ikenberry, Haleville; W. C. Smiley, Roanoke; W.
G. Sprigg, Troutville; F. D. Bolton, Pineville; R. A. Gilliam, Montvale.

Plans for the coming season formed the principal business taken up with particular emphasis being placed on seed certification. The quantity of seed was taken to be of great benefit to the canners due to the fact that a large majority of them raise their own products.

S. A. CONDUCTS A RELIEF STORE

The Salvation Army is now conducting what is known as a relief store at 504 North Main street where quarters have been rented. Ensign Van Pelt and his assistants are now reducing the number of personal appeals by casting of clothing and old furniture made to citizens by receiving and collecting which is removed in the Salvation Army truck to the relief store. In this way many household necessities and clothing have been secured and these are being sold at a low price to those able to pay for them. The proceeds from such sales being turned in to the General Salvation Army fund.

MAIL DELIVERIES
AT HOUSES THAT HAVE BOXES

The postoffice department has served notice to Postmaster Lumpkin that after Thursday, March 1 no mail will be delivered at any residence in any city not equipped with a mail box or a slot.

Persons living in houses not so equipped will not get their mail unless they call at the postoffice for it. It is not a no box, no mail proposition, the department says, but a no box, no delivery proposition.

The action of the postoffice department in refusing to make mail deliveries except to residences with boxes or slots is stated to be in the interest of efficiency, and its legality has been sustained by the attorney general.

Each carrier delivers mail to about 200 stops a day, and the use of a mail box or door slot saves him about a quarter of a minute at each stop, or about fifty minutes a day.

CELEBRATION OF WASH-INGTON'S BIRTHDAY AT OAK GROVE SCHOOL.

The birthday of George Washington was never more happily and appropriately celebrated than last Thursday night when the teacher and pupils of Oak Grove school met the patrons and friends at Oak Grove school house where Mrs. D. J. D. Toney is teacher.

The school room was made especially inviting and attractive with flowers, ferns and flags. A large picture of Washington was given a conspicuous place in the school room and was appropriately hung with the national colors.

Lighted candles and other lights added a charm to the scene. The program was a very enjoyable one. A patriotic note was struck in the singing of the national anthem and the school joined in singing the stirring words of "America." Then Martin Motley with his violin and Gilmer Jefferson and Halle Motley with their guitars delighted the audience with splendid music. The following program which was read by D. W. Motley was rendered:

1. Dialogue—Washington's celebration at Riverside, by Miss Katie Mc-Neil, Mattie Matthews and Walter Mottley.
2. Address—Miss Katie Shelton.
3. "America"—Sung by the school.
4. Recitation—Pattie Shelton.
5. Recitation, 2. Rally—Nellie Doss.

day, by Morris Keen.
9. Recitation—Something Better, by Eva Shelton.

10. Recitation—"The Boys We Need," by George Shelton, Jr.
11. Dialogue—Washington or Lincoln, by James Haden and Alfred Keen.

12. Eulogy of Washington—Russell Matthews.
13. Our Flag—Walter Mitchell.
14. "Star Spangled Banner"—By the school.

15. Recitation—Washington's Hatchet—Abraham Shelton.
16. Washington's Birthday—Noe
Self.

17. Dialogue—The Other Washington, by Miss Katie Shelton and Arthur Amos.
18. Eulogy on Washington—Connie Murphy.

19. Dialogue—Like Washington, by Murray Motley and Noel and William Jefferson.

20. Recitation—February 22, by Murray and Clifton Motley and Calvin Emerson.

21. Acrostic—A poem on Washington, by Miss Beatrice Patterson.
22. Recitation—Red, White and Blue, by Miss Jewel Towler, Tazzy

SIVING HOUSE KILLS A MAN AND INJURES TWO OTHERS

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Feb. 28.—
Harvey Fink, aged 40, of Slocum township, was instantly killed while on his way to work this morning when a horse which he was driving ran at a pile of paper and ran away, throwing Fink against the timbers of a wooden bridge with considerable force.

Charles Fink, a brother, and another occupant of the carriage, were seriously injured as a result of the accident. A fractured skull and internal injuries were responsible for the man's death.

"What other people said in the papers about Tanlac started me to taking it, and the medicine has done me so much good I am glad to join in praising it," declared C. F. Jefferson, well-known grocer of 710 8th Ave.,

Reno, N. V.

"Nervousness, indigestion, and a miserable run-down condition had me where I didn't feel fit to work. I had no appetite, because my stomach was so upset I could hardly eat a thing without terrible pain afterwards from gas bloating and sour stomach. In spite of being all done up at night
I couldn't get any restful sleep and felt just as bad or worse when morning came."

"But since taking Tanlac I go to the store and wait on more trade in an hour than I used to in a day. My appetite is enormous, by nervousness has disappeared, and I feel fine all over.
I have been recommending Tanlac,
and intend to keep it up."
Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

MRS. HUCK TO DEMAND PROBE
OF PRIMARIES

(Special to The Register)

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Mrs. Winnifred Mason Huck, Illinois Congresswoman at large, today announced that on her return to Washington she would ask a Congressional investigation of the primaries yesterday when Morton
D. Hull defeated her for the Republican nomination to succeed the late Representative James R. Mann of the Second Illinois District. Mrs. Huck declared she was convinced that Mr.
Hull spent "large sums of money, far more than the $5,000 limitation for Congress" but that she was not convinced however, that he had defeated her by the $5,000 votes shown by the papers and as claimed by the Hull forces.

"This looks like another Newberry case," said Mrs. Huck.

Mrs. Huck telegraphed Secretary of War Weeks, who has been one of her advisors, and said she will lay her case before him and possibly before President Harding. She will be a member of the House of Representatives only until its adjournment March 4, as she was elected last November to the unexpired term of her late father William E. Mason.

Mrs. Huck, although not the first woman was the first mother to be a member of Congress.

Snowbound on Train Famous Comedian Becomes a Convert

Accepts Religion After Study of Bible and Will Give One-Tenth of His Income to Lord.

NEW YORK, March 1.—On his knees in the parsonage of a little church in Butte, Mont., Fred Stone, comedian whom pleasure-fond Broadway halls as its own, has pledged his daily life and a large part of his income to the Christ.

At the age of forty-nine and at the height of a unique career, Mr. Stone has decided to give a tenth of his large income to church and philanthropic work. He will continue on the stage. His income tax to the government is about $1,000 a week.

The comedian reached this decision a week ago as he sat nursing in a sleeping car snowbound in the Dakotas with others of the "Tip Top" company making for the Pacific Coast on tour. The company was held a week by the snow.

Mr. Stone had completed only a month before perhaps the happiest seven weeks of his career, when his daughter, Dorothy and his wife, Mrs. Allene Crater Stone, had shared part of his tour.

On Stage with Daughter. Dorothy, a lovely agile creature had had her opportunity to show her talent. She had appeared for seven weeks in the company with whom she will appear as a co-star next year. Father, mother and child had played together, worked together and shared together the inconveniences of a road company as they had never done before.

Then Mrs. Stone and her daughter returned to the Stone home in Forest Hills, Long Island, to complete Dorothy's course in dancing and singing. After those weeks came blank loneliness. The comedian felt the need of something outside himself, not wholly dependent on time, trains, and life.

Purchases Bible. When the train reached Billings, Mr. Stone bought a Bible. By the time he reached Butte, Mont., where he was to perform Saturday evening, Feb. 17, he had made his decision.

The Rev. Cecil Leslie Clifford, to whom The World telegraphed for the story, telegraphed in reply: "To The World: Fred Stone entered my study at the Mountain View Methodist Episcopal Church, Saturday Feb. 17. He told me of having been snowbound a week in the Dakotas and thinking seriously of his personal responsibility toward God. At Billings he purchased a Bible and began to read and pray.

"He said his instincts were always good and that his playing was always wholesome and clean. Yet he realized something had been lacking in his life. A void had to him the meaning of Christianity and the necessity of faith in Jesus Christ and acceptance of His program. While on our knees Fred Stone gave his life to God.

"Mr. Stone attended services Sunday morning and listened to a sermon on the divine principles of property ownership. After the benediction he grasped the pastor's hand and said: 'I shall give one-tenth of my income to Christian work.'

"He attended Sunday School and contributed $70 to the school and the church. He ascended the pulpit and told his life story and his decision. He told of his early home in Denver, his experience on the plains. Twenty years before he was baptized in the Methodist church, but since had scarcely attended service, he declared: 'I am now determined to live a Christian life,' he said. 'I mean to be true to this decision to the end of the trail.'

"Fred Stone then fell upon his knees at the chancel and while every head was bowed reverently he repeated the Lord's Prayer he had learned in childhood."

Charlie Chaplin Says He Is Too Poor To Wed Now

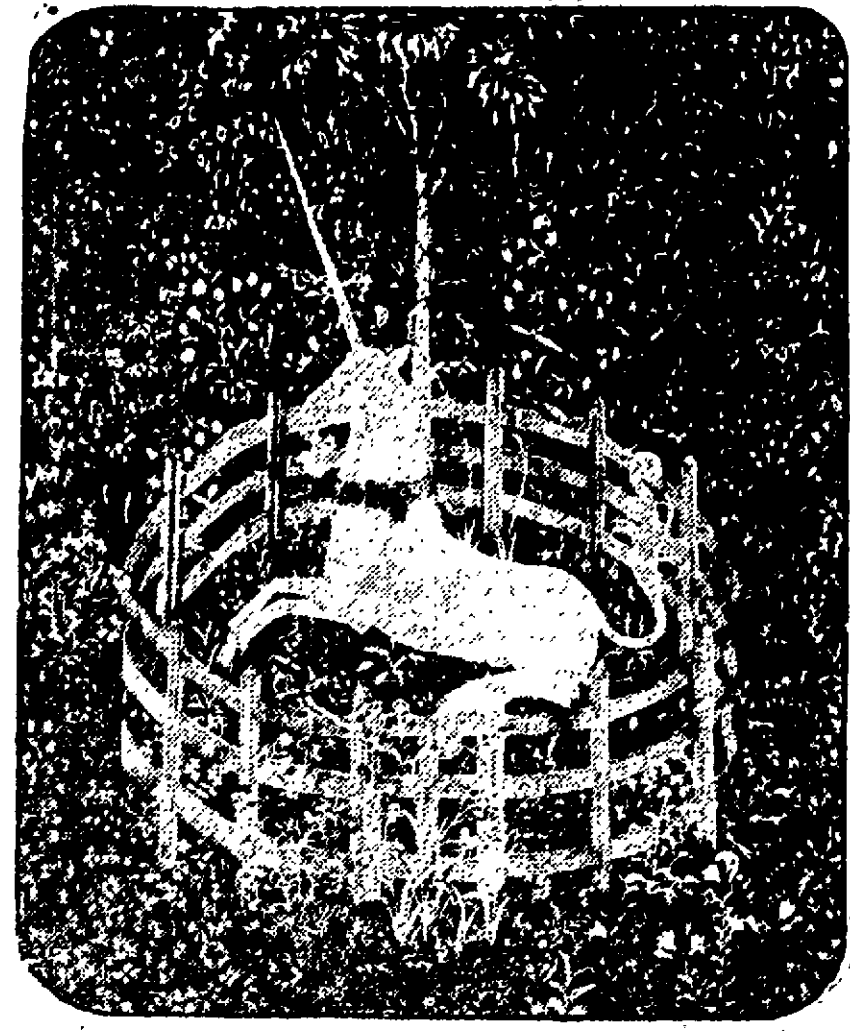

(By The Associated Press.)
LOS ANGELES, March 1.—Charles Chaplin, film comedian "too poor to marry" Pola Negri, film star, just now, the Los Angeles examiner quoted him today. The Examiner predicted it would be midsummer before they are married.

"I am too poor to get married just now," he said. "This is a working world and we have to get to stay busy and co-operate and keep away from climaxes of sentiment."

Rep. Cochrane Dies Suddenly

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 1.—Representative W. Burk Cochrane, Democrat, New York, died suddenly today. Mr. Cochrane celebrated his 69th birthday yesterday, became ill last night and died early today. He was on the floor last night and made a speech against the pending farm credit bill. Mr. Cochrane's death which occurred at 7:10 came as a result of a stroke of apoplexy, it was said at his home.

Tapestry Purchase Stirs France

When it became known that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had purchased for $1,000,000 the famous La Rouchefoucauld tapestries, the ire of the French press was aroused. They charged that the owner had agreed never to permit the art treasures to leave France. The tapestries date from 1450.

LUMPKIN AGAIN FAILS TO BE NAMED AS P. O. ELIGIBLE

Right on the heels of expressions of assurance that there would be "nothing doing" in the Danville postmasterhip impasse from the postmaster, Mr. Lumpkin expressed the belief that the list of eligibles will be submitted to Congressman Easton Slemmon and State Republican Chairman Crupper who will be asked to name the man they want given the postmasterhip. None of the three, Mr. Lumpkin holds, will be found satisfactory to the Republican organization and the list will be returned to the Civil Service without an "O. K." Then, in all likelihood, Mr. Slemmon will be asked to say why none of them are satisfactory and the spokesman for Virginia Republican patronage will be given an opportunity of expressing himself. Then the list will be pigeonholed and Danville will be no nearer having a postmaster than it was a week ago. Mr. Lumpkin holds that the situation is no nearer a solution by yesterday's action. He maintains that nothing can be done towards settling the issue as long as the Republican majority holds in the Senate, that is unless some compromise were reached and the Republicans were to agree to let Mr. Lumpkin be given the postmasterhip. Friends of Charlie Pollok are still hopeful, however, that they can win the post for him on the application of the Civil Service rules which base recommendations on merit, coupled with his high rating and the additional advantage of knowing the ins and outs of postoffice service. If the appointment is made, however, it is not clear how he can fail to win it. In the light of the predicted change in methods expected to be made when Senator New assumes control of the postoffice department, Mr. Lumpkin's theory is that service and devotion are expected to be the controlling factor in settling postoffice contests, then, friends of the present acting postmaster say, Mr. Lumpkin will win.

Cecil De Mille's Yacht Seized by Dry Agents

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—The yacht Seaward, owned by Cecil B. de Mille, motion picture director, as seized by Federal prohibition agents and Captain Edward McNary arrested for alleged failure to declare 50 quarts of liquor on board. The vessel was placed under guard pending disposition of the charge.

ELTING NABBED ON DRY CHARGE

SEATTLE, Feb. 28.—Julian Eltinge, the actor, and four other members of a theatrical troupe must appear before United States Marshal E. B. Benn tomorrow and explain their possession of 16 quarts of liquor, it was announced today. The liquor was seized Sunday night when the five disembarked from a steamer arriving from Vancouver, British Columbia.

Hailed before customs officials, the quintet paid fines totaling $80 for violation of the Atlantic coast laws. Later they were formally arrested by prohibition agents.

Six Men On U. S. Destroyer Burned To Death

(By The Associated Press.)
MANILA, March 1.—Six enlisted men on the U. S. destroyer Hubert, of the Asiatic fleet, were burned to death in an explosion in the boiler room caused by a flare back of oil. No others were injured.

FIREMEN RECEIVE CALL

Firemen were called yesterday evening to the home of J. R. Hutson, 815 Green street, where the weather boarding was found to be ignited at a point where it joined the brick foundation. The damage done was negligible. At first headquarters it was said that some work had been done to the pipes in the house during the early afternoon and that a spark from a torch might have caused the small fire.

Physician Names "Best Friend" As Co-Respondent In Divorce Suit

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Dr. Harry Rosenkrantz has a surprising nature. He admits it. Not once in the ten years that he has been married, Dr. Samuel Rosenkrantz, made the Rosenkrantz name at No. 383 East 58th street his head-of-horse, old Dr. Rosenkrantz suspect that Dr. Rosenkrantz was there to see him. Dr. Rosenkrantz, too, but why not?

Youth Held For Theft Of Horse

Jesse Dowdy is being held by the local police on charges of larceny of a horse from his father, J. E. Dowdy, of near Altavista, and a saddle from Henry Deering, colored. Dowdy was arrested early this morning by Police Officer Foster T. Harris on Main street. He was at the time riding the animal, which seemed almost exhausted. The horse was walking leisurely down Main street about 1:30 o'clock. Harris halted Dowdy and began questioning him. The youth talked in a confused manner and appeared a bit nervous and the officer decided to detain him.

At the courthouse Dowdy finally said he might have told the truth, and told of a long journey on horseback and revealed that he has stolen the horse and saddle. Dowdy said he had rode the animal from near Altavista to Reidsville and back to Danville. He said he was intending to turn to Reidsville and then planned to go to Richmond. He later stated that he was going as far as he could with the horse and then sell it in order to obtain money on which to live. Dowdy said that he left home several days ago following a quarrel with his father. He went to Lynchburg and returned to Altavista Tuesday. He was back home and took his father's horse while the parent slept and stole it at Deering's house and took the saddle. He then started to ride. This was about ten o'clock Tuesday night and the animal has been on the go almost constantly since that time until early this morning when Dowdy was arrested.

Building Fund Is Mounting Swiftly

A splendid response to the appeal for $30,000 necessary to make needed improvements to the Sunday school quarters of Mount Vernon church, continues to be noted and last night at the midweek prayer meeting, a total of $29,300 was reported. The campaign was started last Sunday and by the end of that day nearly $25,000 had been pledged. The money is payable over a period of two years.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 1.—The cotton market made a steady showing early today. Early cables from Liverpool were a shade lower than on old crop months but press advices said it was doubtful if Lancashire would adopt the short time proposal and there was some buying here on reports of exports from Galveston. California Taps Golden Gusher; Well Is Now Spouting $35,000 a Day

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—The greatest oil strike in the history of California fields was made today. A well known as Rider No. 1, on the property of the Petroleum Life and Fire Insurance Co., at Signal Hill, Long Beach, broke away and began spouting an estimated output of between 20,000 and 25,000 barrels, worth approximately $35,000 a day. The well has been producing between 4,000 and 5,000 barrels a day for the past three months.

Henry Wallerstein Declares Senator Struck Him from Behind Without Any Cause.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Harry Wallerstein, overseas soldier and chief co-ordinator of the United States Veterans' Bureau, who was severely beaten up by Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, yesterday, near the Shoreham hotel, will sue the senator for $100,000, he announced last night. "I consider the act cowardly," Wallerstein told friends, to whom he also confided his plans for financial recovery on grounds of "malicious assault and battery and for humiliation caused by the attack."

The attack took place after Wallerstein jostled the senator on a Mount Pleasant street car yesterday morning.

His stories are widely divergent as to the cause, but both agree on the main point that Senator Caraway demolished his umbrella over Wallerstein's head and had him on the ground when the belligerents were pulled apart.

Wallerstein, about 30 years old and of slight frame, presented a badly lacerated face and a swollen hand as he explained the encounter. He said:

"I did not insult him. I was standing on a very crowded car, leaning against a seat. Senator Caraway was in the seat. As the car gave a lurch, I was forced against his back. He turned and gave me a vicious shove."

"I told him that it was altogether unavoidable and that he need not be so roving about something over which I had no control. I moved away as far as I could and had forgotten the matter until I went to leave the car. This man, who would make more than twice of me, struck me from behind with his umbrella and continued to strike me about the face until his umbrella was broken. When I tried to defend myself he threw me to the ground and choked me until I was compelled to beg for my life. Senator Caraway declared Wallerstein continued to push his hat down over the Senator's eyes while he was seated in the car, and when he remonstrated invited the senator to leave the car. As he did so Senator Caraway declared Wallerstein struck him forcefully in the jaw with his fist. It was at this point, he said, that he employed the umbrella."

Good Morning Judge!

Allen Garland was the only prospective contributor in the police court this morning, but even at that he did not contribute for he was unable to pay his fine and was compelled to go to jail to serve out his five dollars and costs' worth, imposed for "riding the rods." Allen was taken on a passenger train from Lynchburg last night by police officers, they having been informed by authorities at the Hill City that a man was hobnobbing his way South.

A case, charging Major Carter, colored, with disorderly conduct was continued until tomorrow.

A warrant against Jessie Dowdy, charging him with stealing a horse from his father, J. E. Dowdy, colored, was continued also.

This wound up the brief docket for the court which was in session only about fifteen minutes.

'Why I'm On Hungry Strike'—Sacco

By EDWARD THIERRY
(Special to The Bee.)
Dedham, Mass., March 1.—Nicola Sacco, brooding in a cell, is convinced that because he is a working man he can never have justice.

So, in his melancholy meditation, he has evolved his philosophy as a solution of the problem.

"Starvation will let me laugh at justice which so far has laughed at me."

Thus the hunger strike. It began Feb. 15 and has again focused international attention upon Sacco, starving himself in Dedham jail, and upon Bartholomew Vanzetti, also under death sentence in Charlestown Prison. These men were convicted of murdering a paymaster and his guard at South Braintree nearly three years ago, and the answering protests, rivaling the Moore case and even the famous Dreyfus case of France, found violent expression in riots in London in October, 1922 and in the explosion of a bomb in the Paris home of Ambassador Herrick.

Sacco talking with his wife in the jail corridor, during his philosophy in those precise words, but that epitomized it.

"I'm tired—I'd rather die than stay here," he told me. "Thirty-four months! Nightmares! I watch prisoners go and go. I am innocent, yet I stay."

"I don't want to go to the gallows, but I don't want to stay here. I'll kill myself first."

There's any other way. Good friends of mine, spend money to free Vanzetti and me, but I just prefer to stay here and die. I don't want to go to the gallows, but I don't want to stay here. I'll kill myself first."

with a certain ego is the despair of the Sacco-Vanzetti Defense Committee, which for three years has waged war in behalf of the imprisoned men. A motion for a new trial is pending. Charges that the men were "transferred" in connection with the payroll murder, a climax to the "Red raids" of 1919-1920, have earned the support of the American Federation of Labor, individual and independent labor unions, and such other notable organizations as that headed by Mrs. Gladstone Evans, Boston society woman. Individuals and organizations numbering fully half a million have contributed more than $100,000 to the defense fund.

Five Judges Are Nominated at the Joint Caucus

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 28.—Senator N. B. Early, Jr., of Albemarle County, was elected chairman of the Senate steering committee at its meeting tonight. He succeeds Senator G. Walter Mapp, who resigned because of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Under the seniority rule, Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Winchester, was elected chairman of the road committee of the Senate.

Five judges were nominated tonight at a joint caucus of the House and Senate. The nomination will be reported to the two houses of the Assembly tomorrow for confirmation.

The nomination follows: Corporation Court, City of Roanoke: Judge John M. Hart, recently appointed by Governor Trinkle to succeed Judge Clifton A. Woodrum, resigned. Nominated by Senator W. L. Rouse.

Law and Chancery Court, City of Roanoke: Judge W. W. Moffett, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Roy B. Smith. Nominated by Delegate R. Holman Willis.

Twentieth District Circuit Court: Herbert B. Gregory, Roanoke lawyer, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge W. W. Moffett. Nominated by Senator W. L. Rouse.

Fifteenth District Circuit Court: Judge J. Vernon Spratley, recently appointed by Governor Trinkle to succeed Judge Clarence W. Robinson, resigned. Nominated by Delegate H. R. Houston.

Corporation Court, City of Alexandria: Judge Howard W. Smith, recently appointed by Governor Trinkle to succeed Judge Robinson, resigned. Nominated by Delegate Charles Henry Smith.

James H. Price, of Richmond, presided as chairman of the joint caucus. The session was brief, practically all of the nominations receiving the unanimous vote of the caucus.

Chairman S. L. Ferguson of the Senate caucus tonight announced the appointment of Senator Morgan R. Mills of Richmond, and Senator Robert Russell, of Campbell, as members of the steering committee to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Senator George T. Rison of Pittsylvania, and the elevation of himself to the chairmanship.

The steering committee was in session at Dedham, Mass., 160 witnesses testified; arrived guards and riot guns surround courthouse.

JULY 14, 1921: Both found guilty of first degree murder; motion for new trial denied; Supreme Court motion denied.

OCT. 3, 1921: Protest meeting in Milan, Italy.

OCT. 10, 1921: Bomb exploded in Paris home of American Ambassador Herrick, wounding his wife.

OCT. 21, 1921: Plot at Paris protest meeting. 20 injured by grenade explosion; American consulate in Brest stormed, French appeal made to President Hindenburg for release of prisoners; demonstration at American embassy in London and in Rio Janeiro, Brazil.

DEC. 24, 1921: Judge Thayer denies new trial.

MAY 4, 1922: Appeal for new trial on witness' reputation of testimony.

FEB. 3, 1923: Argument for new trial delayed by Judge Thayer's illness.

FEB. 15, 1923: Sacco begins hunger strike.

HAS TRAVELED 975,000 MILES IN 25 YEARS OF COMMUTING

BEACON, Feb. 28.—Lewis Ebert of Beacon, who has just rounded out 25 years as a commuter between his home and lower Manhattan, estimates that he has traveled about 975,000 miles during the period. He doubts if many commuters have mileage records that equal his.

Between his home and his office the distance is about 65 miles, so he travels 130 miles a day or about 39,000 miles a year. His commute about five hours daily riding on New York Central, trains, subway trains and street cars.

He has told friends that he enjoys commuting as it affords rest and relaxation to ride so much.

Stanley Baldwin Is Honored At Pilgrims' Dinner

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Feb. 28.—The "Pilgrims" gave a dinner this evening in honor of Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, who headed the British Funding Mission to Washington. Lord Desborough acted as chairman and the principal speakers were the American ambassador, George Harvey, and Mr. Baldwin.

The Prince of Wales surprised the Pilgrims by dropping in unexpectedly. He is a member of the Pilgrims, and he explained he did not want to make a spy, but came simply as a member to hear the speeches and to have dinner.

This was the first public dinner the Prince had attended since his India tour; he is getting plenty of American atmosphere, which apparently he likes as tomorrow night he will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the American University Union dinner.

Others at the dinner, included the Duke of Devonshire, the Brazilian ambassador, Dr. Harry Garfield, Viscount Peel, Sir Robert Stevenson, Lord Philip Lloyd-George, Viscount Davenport, Dr. Hamar Greenwood, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Captain Charles L. Hussey, naval attaché of the American embassy, and Robert P. Skinner, the American official general at London.

Ambassador George Harvey, speaking at the dinner said in part: "We have met to celebrate the great achievement. I do not think I exaggerate when I pronounce it the most conclusive settlement of a really vital world problem since the armistice. It involves far more than the greatest financial transaction reported in history; it bore with it enhancement of mutual respect and, I firmly believe, the everlasting friendship of the two nations toward which the whole world looks toward to solvency and stability which are essential to the prosperity and happiness of all mankind."

The task was one of appalling magnitude, said Mr. Harvey, and the adjustment of terms relatively minor.

"The undertaking," he added, "could not have been regarded in any other light than that of a devastating failure if the agreement should not win the approbation and measurable satisfaction of the millions of people who comprise the British empire and the American republic. That object has been obtained."

The great majority in Congress presented conclusive evidence of unmistakable gratification in the United States and the unanimity manifested in Great Britain, afforded eloquent testimony to the sense of relief even joy."

"The United Kingdom," said the ambassador, "continued to rest on the rock of financial integrity and national honor."

The ambassador told his hearers that the United States had been obliged to borrow $4,000,000,000 because it had loaned 250,000,000 pounds sterling to England, and also that the United States borrowed and loaned to

(THIS WAS WRITTEN BY A WOMAN.)

"IT'S GOOD"

I was using a well-known household article when my friend came in.

"Why did you buy that kind?" kind?" she asked.

"Because it's good," I told her.

She asked me why. Without realizing what I was doing I gave her several technical reasons for the superiority of that machine. I listed a number of its mechanical advantages and one or more very special conveniences that I felt meant a great deal to me.

My reply surprised even myself. I had not realized I knew so much about it. After I had recited my reasons to her I analyzed my first answer, "It's good," and I found that answer typified all of the specific things I was able to recite about the machine which I had as a matter of fact recently purchased.

It had been widely advertised and I, as a large buyer for a household, always felt that any woman may be guided to safe and satisfactory investments for her own needs and the needs of her family if she will but use the messages which the manufacturers send to her in her newspaper or in her magazine.

Until I had said, "it's good,"

I did not realize that I had been reading so much about the advantages of the machine which I subsequently purchased. One after the other those messages had gotten into my mind until when asked to do so I was capable of repeating them almost as if I had been a salesman for the company making that article.

However, I realized that the printed message had not really meant so much to me as the repeated appearance. Seeing that article over and over again meant to me that many other women had reached the point where they could purchase it sooner than I and were well satisfied with it.

Almost instinctively the thought took hold of me that when I saw the name of a product appearing again and again I could feel sure that product was living up to its promise. I could feel secure in buying it.

If only all women would realize that in whatever they buy—machines or furniture—clothing or food—dress goods or hats—jewelry or toys—they may save themselves unwise expenditures by seeking the product which through its advertising and behavior after purchase compels its thousands of customers to say "it's good."

OREGON'S CLAIM TO OLDEST PRESS IS NOW DISPUTED

HONOLULU, Feb. 28.—Refutation of the common belief that the oldest press now in the possession of the Oregon Historical Society is the first to have been brought west in a paper by Professor Howard Ballou, presented recently to the Hawaiian Historical Society. The press of the Oregon Society is a small hand card press and was claimed by the society to have been the original printing press brought out by the missionaries who came to Hawaii in 1819 on the "Thaddeus." In 1829, it was declared, it had been taken to Oregon by the late E. O. Hall.

Professor Ballou, however, declared that the press in the possession of the Oregon Society is not the original one brought out by the "Thaddeus," but is one which was brought here in 1839 and never used here. Professor Ballou quotes from letters left by Mr. Hall in proof of his point.

RATE REVISION WOULD LOWER ROADS' REVENUE

(By The Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 28.—Testimony desired to show that the proposed revision for rate revision in the Southern Railway Commission would result in lower rates for the carriers' revenue by 9 per cent was introduced at the Southern Railway Commission hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission here today by Charles H. Barham, chairman of the Southern Railway Association.

Following completion of his testimony with regard to the proposal of the carriers, Mr. Barham was cross-examined by the Interstate Commerce Commission, to the proposal of the carriers to make distance the determining factor in rates, using the mileage system as proposed.

At the close of the cross-examination, Mr. Barham was asked for information concerning the short haul rates and the extent to which rates had been lowered on traffic of this kind since the passage of the act.

Mr. Barham answered that the carriers would come to the extent of the act, but that they would not come to the extent of the act.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It

In the year of 1893 I was afflicted by Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried every remedy, but without relief. I obtained a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and after taking a few bottles, I found a treatment that cured me completely. I am now a healthy man, and I can say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is a life-saver. I have never returned to the sufferings of rheumatism.

I gave it to a number of my friends who were terribly afflicted, and they were cured. I have never returned to the sufferings of rheumatism.

FARM CREDITS BILL WELL ON WAY TO PASSAGE

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Farm credits legislation was put well on its way to passage in the House tonight, but it may be deferred until tomorrow because of the absence of a member of members. After the House acts, the bill will be sent to conference for adjustment of differences with the Senate.

The measure, a combination of the Capper, Lenroot-Anderson and Strong bills, was called up today under a special rule limiting general debate to four hours and at a night session it was considered section by section for amendment under a rule limiting discussion on each amendment to five minutes for each speaker.

Chief opposition was voiced by Representatives from eastern members with members from the west and south giving hearty support.

Representative Luce, Republican, Massachusetts, was in charge of the opposing forces while leading the supporters in the debate were Chairman McCadden of the Banking Committee, which reported on the bill, Representative Wingo of Arkansas, ranking Democrat on that committee and Representative Anderson of Minnesota and Tinscher of Kansas, Republican.

TOBACCO SALES LIGHT

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 28.—Tobacco receipts at the local warehouses were very light yesterday. The steady rain on Monday and through Monday night kept the farmers from bringing in their crops. Most of that offered was the lower and medium grades. The market, however, was quite active. The really low grades sold as well or better than they have done this season. It was said that some lots brought $2 to $3 more than has been paid for tobacco of the same quality. In one lot, crop prices ranged from $4 to $10. The grower had 900 pounds and only got $70.40 for it. This, however, was half cut and otherwise damaged.

There were only two sales that went above $20 per hundred. T. J. Kent and W. R. Melton, of Fluvanna, got $ 3-4, 18, 20, 25, 28 and 30 for theirs, and C. R. Hall made perhaps a better average with his prices of 13-3-4, 14-3-4, 22-3-4, 22-3-4, 22-3-4.

The wet and warmer weather of the last few days has been fine for handling tobacco and heavier receipts are looked for in a few days, probably by Friday. With favorable weather for handling and hauling it is expected that pretty nearly all of the tobacco for this market will come in within the next thirty days. There will probably be a few scattering sales in April.

HOWARD CLARKE.

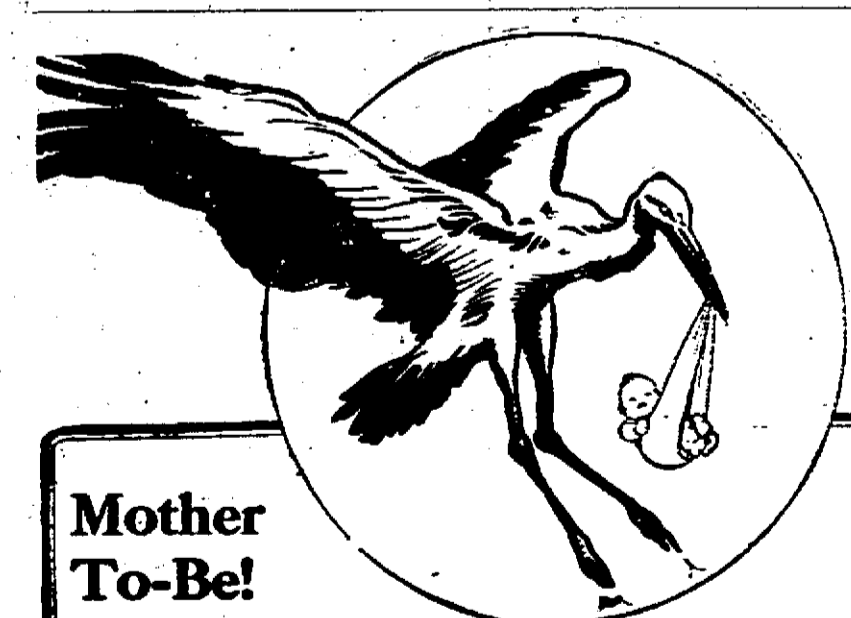

HAVE YOU PAINS?

This Advice Is For You If Suffering From Rheumatism.

Chestertown, Md.—"I suffered four months with a severe case of arthritis. The doctors continued to do me no good. My knee and left foot were swollen twice their natural size and pained me very severely. I was unable to walk, and was compelled to use crutches after lying in bed three weeks. After using my mother's advice, I tried Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. From the first dose or so I started improving and am now able to work as before."—Howard Clarke.

Step into any store and ask for a package of Anuric, which is many times more potent than lithia. A short trial will convince you. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package, or write for free medical advice—adv.

Mother To-Be! Do You Realize this Fact?

An eminent physician has shown why there is so much useless suffering on the part of many expectant mothers, for months before baby comes, as well as when baby actually arrives. This same great doctor found the way to avoid much of this suffering. Mother, your baby's nerves, its whole structure should be free from any influence caused by your months of useless misery and pain. You yourself can be free from much of it. Here is a little message to all expectant mothers:

Mrs. Ida Milton, 108 N. Tremont St., Kansas, Ill., says: "I am forced to say something in regard to your wonderful 'Mother's Friend.' Just one application gave me such relief I could hardly realize I was in pregnancy. Before I used it I was suffering with pains all over, and today, I am able to do my house-work with all ease and without pain."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally, and enables the muscles, nerves and tissues to relax and readjust themselves with the growing changes during pregnancy, and at child-birth. It should be used for some time before baby comes—the sooner the better.

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For those generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Druggists everywhere. Send for your very own to Bradford Register Co., 24-46, Atlanta, Ga. Get "Mother's Friend" from your druggist today.

SUBJECTS OF IMPORTANCE ARE TAKEN UP BY N. E. A.

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 28.—Today's chief sessions of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association convention were devoted to discussion of subjects of the country's schools from kindergarten to colleges, this morning, and "the elementary school principalship" at the main meeting this afternoon. More than a dozen section meetings were held during the day.

While the meetings were in progress, thousands of delegates were casting their ballots for a new president of the department of superintendence and vice president and one member of the executive committee.

No meetings were held tonight, the program calling for a series of university and college dinners in many hotels and clubs.

The convention will close tomorrow night. The resolutions committee will present its report tomorrow. The report will be discussed and voted upon at the night session. It is understood that the reports will include these resolutions.

Proposal to endorse the Towne Sterling bill, which provides for a department of education and welfare, with a secretary in the president's cabinet. "An expression of satisfaction at the attitude of the governors, members of legislatures and the people toward public schools, and the disposition of these reports to adequately provide funds for the proper carrying on of high class school work."

A pledge by the school men and women of the nation to meet this eve of increased taxation.

"A plan that equal opportunity be given to children of urban and rural schools, and especially estate wealth wherever found be challenged to support these schools in the most beneficent manner."

During the morning sessions, William McAndrew, associate superintendent of schools, New York City, scored the ignorance of educators concerning the affairs of life and the ignorance of the public respecting the schools.

STEEL TRUST RIVAL IS PLAN

LONDON, Feb. 28.—A merger of the steel interests of France and the Ruhr are being discussed by Hugo Stinnes of Germany in conjunction with Schneider and de Wendel of France.

This Pan-European Steel Trust would be about the size of the United States Steel Corporation, perhaps larger. Even if the British interests remain aloof, the combine would have a capacity of about 30,000,000 tons a year.

Schneider is the ruling spirit in Creusots and the de Wendels control the bulk of the Lorraine industry. In addition, Schneider and his colleagues now own most of the shares of the famous French firm in Austria. Hugo Stinnes, besides his vast German holdings, also has great interests in the Austrian metallurgical industry.

Of course, prospects of this combine rest on a fairly economic considerations. The fact that German and French magnates desire it merely means both are losing from the Ruhr adventure. Germans, for instance, unable to transport Lorraine ore to the Rhine, work in Austria. The French, unable to get coke from the Ruhr, by it from England. So both would gain by peace.

But political factors may wreck the Stinnes-Schneider de Wendel scheme. For the present, those factors include the hatred, instilled in the German people by the Ruhr occupation. It is possible French industrialists will be unable to regain control of French Governmental policy from the militarists, whose chief aim is to smash Germany to insure the safety of France.

MARKETS FIRM

BY FRANK D. McLAINE
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—There is a remarkable instance upon immediate delivery for the basic commodities is produced, manufactured in this section in evidence today. Markets consequently are firm and plants unusually active. This is particularly noticeable in the textile industries. Production in general would be at an even higher rate except for a shortage of labor. There is a demand for both skilled and unskilled workmen.

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON TO BE RADICALLY CHANGED IN THE COMING CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—More than a score of men who have been national figures in the last quarter of a century, and who have left their imprint upon the pages of American history, will pass from the national stage Saturday with the ending of the Sixty-seventh Congress.

Some of them retire of their own accord after many years of service; others are retiring by the expressed will of their constituents; but regardless of the method of their going, their absence will entail radical changes in the make-up of what is known as "official Washington."

Probably the most widely known of all of those who are to pass is "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who has completed 46 years in the House of Representatives, a record that stands supreme. "Uncle Joe" is retiring voluntarily, and no pang of defeat will embitter his remaining years, nor mar the memory of his great service. Only once in nearly half a century have the "home folks" of Danville, Ill., turned "Uncle Joe" down. That was in 1912, at the start of the Wilson Administration. He was absent for two years, but came back in 1914 and has been consistently re-elected since. His service spans from the 13rd Congress to the 67th inclusive. He has been for years the only man in Congress with vivid recollection of Lincoln, for he was a delegate to the memorable convention that nominated The Emancipator.

Few men have attained the eminence in Congress that "Uncle Joe" held and maintained for so many years. For eight of those years he was Speaker of the House, his power virtually unlimited, his dominance unquestioned. He was the last of the "Crazies." He was broken by the Progressive insurgents from the West in the first skirmish of that long chain of events that led up to the famous Republican split of 1912.

Two other "old timers" of the House, who are passing, Frank W. Mondell (R.) of Wyoming and Joseph W. Fordney (R.) of Michigan. Mondell, who has served 26 years in the House, was defeated in his aspiration for the Senate this year. His going will necessitate a new Republican leader of the lower chamber. Fordney, with 24 years of service, retires voluntarily in order, he said, "to spend my declining years caring my grandchildren." His going leaves vacant the chairmanship of the all-powerful Ways and Means Committee. With Senator McCumber (R.) of North Dakota, he sponsored the present Republican tariff law.

Philip P. Campbell (R.) of Kansas, with twenty years of continuous service, also will be among the missing in the new Congress. He is chairman of the powerful Rules Committee. He was defeated in the primaries.

Andrew J. Volstead (R.) of Minnesota, author of the most famous piece of legislation on the Congress ever passed, also retires—beaten by a man who boasted during the campaign that he was "drier than Volstead." Volstead is chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

C. Bascom Sless, who for sixteen years has borne the distinction of being the only Republican in the House from Virginia, retires with the Sixty-seventh Congress. He declined a re-nomination and his place in the new Congress by a Democrat for the first time in years. On the Senate side the passing of well-known figures is even more pronounced, because the casualties last November were proportionately greater.

Two men who came in on the same day 24 years ago will pass out.

HOUSE SPEEDS UP ITS LABORS

(By The Associated Press.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 28.—The House today speeded up its work preparatory to full sessions beginning tomorrow when all committees are expected to complete their reports. Tonight's session will consider state-wide measures as special order bills on the calendar.

In the Senate, debate on the revenue bill occupied most of the morning and afternoon sessions. The Varner amendment to strike out the provision which would exempt from taxation stock in foreign corporations owned by persons within the state, being defeated by a vote of 25 to 23. Other sections of the bill will be considered at tonight's session.

The Senate tonight passed on third reading the Bowie bill providing for a railroad through the "lost provinces" of North Carolina. The bill which now becomes a law, provides for a bond issue of $10,000,000 to construct a trunk line railroad through the Northwestern section of the state, not to exceed 125 miles in length. It also provided for the state to be a stockholder in the project to the extent of 49 per cent, and for the constructing of two branch lines from the trunk if the commission which the bill creates deem them necessary in the interests of the state.

SHOEMAKER IS KILLED.

(By The Associated Press.)
BRISTOL, Tenn., Feb. 28.—As the result of an altercation late tonight the nature of which has not been ascertained, a shoemaker, is dead from knife wounds and Charlie Shankle, an alleged bootlegger, is in the Tennessee jail charged with his murder.

MARRIED 24 HOURS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Less than twenty-four hours after he was married last Dec. 18 in Denver to Ruth Silver, Edward Altman, a salesman, deserted her, according to the complaint upon which he was arrested Monday night at Forty-second street and Broadway by Detectives Joseph Appel and Patrick Flood.

In the West Side Court yesterday, Mrs. Altman told Magistrate Max S. Levine how Altman proposed to her in the morning and married her in the afternoon, disappearing soon afterward. She said Altman told wonderful stories of his wealth, and said her mother cashed two checks for him, one for $800 and the other on the morning of her marriage for $200.

Mrs. Altman came here and traced her husband to 1,465 Forty-fourth street, Brooklyn. She enlisted the aid of the police through her attorney, Bernard H. Sander of 261 Broadway, and telephoned to Altman that she was ready to forgive him and that she had brought a large sum of money. Altman agreed to meet her, and the two detectives, who were waiting with her, arrested him.

Magistrate Levine held Altman without bail to await the arrival from Denver of a certified copy of an indictment charging desertion.

JUDGE SCORES JURY FOR FREEING WALTER FISHER

(By The Associated Press.)
SYLVIA, N. C., Feb. 28.—After the jury had returned a verdict of not guilty today in the case of Walter Fisher charged with the murder of George Revis, Judge Henry P. Lane stated that they had "returned a verdict which in his opinion was shocking to the people of the county" and of North Carolina by disregarding the greater weight of unimpeachable testimony and expressed the hope that when they were discharged in the future it would be forever from the court.

Fisher pleaded self defense for the killing which occurred near here on November 7, 1922.

ADAM AND EVE CREATIONS OF PAGANS—GRANT

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Adam and Eve existed in the imagination of the pagan and "none of us," came from them, Rev. Dr. Percy Strickney Grant, rector of the Church of the Ascension, declared in a lecture sermon tonight.

"The time has come to get down to reality," said Dr. Grant, whose controversy with Bishop William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York recently aroused nationwide interest.

"A lot of mythology from Greece and Rome was let in the back door of the Christian religion. We want to get rid of the things that are not so, the things that our knowledge shows are not real."

"The apostles' creed was not written by the apostles, as it was not until 150 years after Jesus Christ that it was written."

"The Holy Ghost was not in the Creed originating in the second century said Jesus was born of the Virgin Mary. Historical points of view are very perplexing."

"Get rid of the nonsense, illusions and dramas and get down to realities," he urged. "Down to the cold thoughts of your soul. There is an enormous freedom in the church today and more things are understood."

members may work with the assurance that they can do business with us and still deliver their tobacco and cotton to their respective associations," say those who have recently added their names to the business men and bankers who are supporting co-operative marketing from Northern Virginia to the Georgia line.

DENIES SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE USERS OF DRUGS

BUFFALO, Feb. 28.—Dr. Franklin C. Gram, city health officer, former prison physician, and student of the drug evil declares that in all his experience he has never found a public or high school student a victim of the drug habit.

"The only authority for the stories that drugs are being sold to school children in several of our large cities is the statement of drug addicts themselves, and they are notorious liars," Dr. Gram says. "Nothing they say can be accepted for the truth, unless there is corroborative evidence from other sources."

"I cannot conceive how high or grade school students could become drug users without such conditions being speedily discovered by their parents or teachers. Not an instance of the kind has been reported to the Buffalo health department."

"If anyone becomes a drug addict, he has only himself to blame. It is not true, as generally assumed, that innocent persons are started on the drug route through taking drugs in medicine or through the urging of illicit peddlers. Individual moral weakness is almost always the cause of their downfall."

Dirty Shoes Wear Out Sooner

Leather Fibres are Cut by Grit in Pores

The skin of an animal, like that of a human being, contains millions of small pores. When the skin is tanned and made into shoes, the pores naturally remain.

Once lodged in the fibres of the leather, the most potent poisons start on the weakened leather wears out long before its time.

Obviously, the way to guard against grit and dust is to keep shoes polished. But many old-fashioned polishes contain ingredients that are harsher on leather than grit.

Then come Nu-Shine's, the new advance in shoe polish. Nu-Shine works into the pores and seals them against grit and dust. It lubricates, waterproofs, and keeps leather pliable. Nu-Shine makes shoes wear longer.

It gives a beautiful shine. It is easy and clean to apply—and speedy. Put it on with the duster. Then brush your shoes. You have a shine that lasts a week. Simply rub your shoes for six days after an application of Nu-Shine to renew the lustre.

Nu-Shine lessens the family shoe-bills. Men, women and children should use Nu-Shine. It comes in many colors. Nu-Shine comes in Black, Caramel, Nut Brown, Light Tan, White Kid and White Canvas.

Buy Nu-Shine at shoe, drug, grocery and hardware stores and at shoe repair shops. It costs only 25c. Get the genuine. Ask for Nu-Shine to-day.

BLUE BOOK TELLS OF THE BREAK

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The various international conferences held in London and Paris during December and January on reparations and interrelated debts, culminating in the disagreement of Jan. 4, form the subject of a Blue Book issued today.

The report shows how the allies unsuccessfully endeavored to bridge the differences between Great Britain and France.

The breaking point apparently was reached on Jan. 4, says the book, when Prime Minister Bonar Law in reply to Premier Poincaré said that the difference between them was one of fact, and that he believed it was best to get the most money they could from Germany and not try to get as much as they would like.

Mr. Bonar Law pointed out that information in his possession showed Germany to be on the point of industrial collapse.

And indeed, he continued, "in my opinion it would be contrary to the whole experience of history and the view of all economists if such terrible inflation as has been going on there is not followed by the biggest crisis seen in almost any country. I am afraid that that crisis should be precipitated."

After adjustments and resumption of the negotiations the final break came on Jan. 4, when M. Poincaré made it clear that he would not permit a man or woman otherwise compelled to stand; no one should permit a man or woman carrying a child to stand for lack of a seat.

On the sleeping car the person having the lower berth is entitled to the seat facing forward.

4. A man changing to meet a woman alighting on a train may invite her to dine with him, but whether she permits him to pay for her meal depends upon the degree of their acquaintance.

SHIPPING BILL DIES EXACTLY ONE YEAR AFTER ITS BIRTH

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The administration shipping bill died today just a year to the day after it was born.

On February 28, 1922, President Harding, appearing at a joint session of Congress, urged enactment of legislation designed to build up an American merchant marine through government aid and identical bills embodying the views of the administration were introduced in the Senate and House.

Today the bill then introduced after having passed the House in the meantime, met its death in the Senate through adoption of a motion to lay it aside.

The end of the legislation, which the President has commanded, leaves the administration where it was a year ago in dealing with the three billion dollar investment in war built ships. The task of liquidating this investment already has been the subject of study and the plans under consideration are to be announced soon after Congress adjourns Sunday.

The death of the shipping bill came quietly and without a bitter discussion which marked its hectic career. Under an agreement reached yesterday the Senate prompted at 1 o'clock proceeded to vote on the motion of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the acting Democratic leader, to send the ship measure back to committee.

The final blow then was dealt the bill, which was given up as lost last Friday by its supporters after a four day filibuster. Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, moved that it be laid aside in favor of the filled-milk bill and the motion was carried 63 to 17 with the Republican leaders voting with the majority. The action meant the death of the shipping measure inasmuch as Senator Jones had told the Senate he would make no further efforts to call up the bill before adjournment.

The action also was taken to mean the end of such legislation for years to come. For President Harding has let it be known that the administration plans no attempt to obtain consideration of the bill at the next regular session of Congress.

The filled-milk bill which prohibits the shipment in interstate commerce of evaporated or condensed milk and such oil substitutes for the withdrawn butter fat as cottonseed oil and coconut oil was debated intermittently through the remainder of the day. Agreement was reached for a vote late tomorrow on the measure which has passed the House.

PHILADELPHIA, WOMAN SUES FOR SHARE OF COX MILLIONS

CINCINNATI, Feb. 28.—Suit, contesting the right of Caroline Cox, as the reputed widow of George B. Cox, nationally known Republican leader, to the $4,000,000 estate left by him, was filed in Common Pleas Court today by attorneys representing Clara N. Etting, of Philadelphia, daughter of Cox's late sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Newman.

The suit sets forth that Cox died in Cincinnati May 20, 1916, leaving as his only heirs and next of kin his brother, Alfred H. Cox, and his niece, Clara N. Etting, only child and heir of Elizabeth Newman, deceased. The suit estimates the value of Cox's estate at the time of his death at $4,000,000, and it requests judgment for one-half or $2,000,000.

The petition alleged that Cox's reputed widow represented in Probate Court that he was unable to look after his property, and procured the appointment of herself as guardian. The petition further states that the defendant appropriated large sums of money and property and made no return thereof to the court.

The plaintiff further alleged that the defendant sold, for $1,000,000, property of the estate valued at $3,000,000 at the time of the sale.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Feb. 28.—The Blanchard Coal Company has begun placement of equipment at Ellis on the Muskingum river, near Zanesville, for the immediate development of 2,500 acres of coal land recently purchased. The company plans one of the world's largest stripping developments. A daily output of 2,500 tons of coal and 500 tons of sand is planned.

MAKES SPEECH ON NEAR EAST

RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE, ASHLAND, Va., Feb. 28.—Mr. R. P. Lane, professor of politics in the University of Michigan, now European Director of the American Junior Red Cross, delivered an address Monday night at Randolph-Macon College on the Lausanne Conference.

Mr. Lane spoke not so much of the details of the conference itself as of conditions leading up to it and conditions responsible for its failure.

One of the difficulties of the Near Eastern situation he finds to be lack of any consistent practice in past dealings of powers with Turkey. Each crisis having been met in the spirit of opportunism. Another difficulty grew out of the fact that Turkey, which was a vanquished nation at the time of the Treaty of Sevres, considered itself in the light of a victor nation at the Lausanne Conference. Further difficulty was added by the difference of attitude and purpose on the part of Great Britain and France, which have drifted rather far apart in their Near Eastern as well as their Middle European policies.

Mr. Lane said he had no panaceas to offer, and unlike many returning Americans, no prophecies to make. However, the clarity of his prepared address and the comprehensiveness of his replies to a half an hour of questioning showed that his three year's experience in Europe have given him a very clear grasp of the situation.

ONE successful drape will make a flock's reputation this season. Here are two examples:

Very modest drapery suffices one of the models. In fact, the blouse drape is just half of the bodice that escaped from under the belt. And the skirt drape is the slightest of pointed ripples on either side of the long panel.

But the other model drapes filmy material from shoulder strap to hem, and adds a wide pointed tunic of the same material.

"Anti-Flirt" Club Being Organized In Washington

BY MARGARET TAYLOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Washington's vast army of young women, the girls who make flower gardens of many of the musty old government departments—are about to combine in a general movement against the cake eaters and curb-hounds who fairly choke the downtown streets just after the government workers get out of office at 4:30 p. m. The nucleus of an "Anti-Flirt" club has been organized for the guidance of those who would rid themselves of the male pest.

Lately the cake eaters have adopted the tactics of drawing a flyver up to the curb—with five or six scuffle boys in hand—while the girls that pass their way. With the spring season coming on this custom promises to grow more of a nuisance. But the girls have decided on a counter-offensive and here is the code they have adopted:

One—Don't flirt; those who flirt in haste often repent in leisure.

Two—Don't accept rides from flirtatious motorists—they don't all invite you in to save a walk.

Three—Don't use your eyes for ogling—they were made for worthier purposes.

Four—Don't go out with men you don't know—they may be married, and you may be in for a hair pulling match.

Five—Don't wink—a flutter of one eye is a flirtatious gesture.

Six—Don't smile at flirtatious strangers—save them for people you know.

Seven—Don't annex all the men you can get—by flirting with many you may lose out on the one.

Eight—Don't fall for the slick, dandified cake eater—the unpolished gold of a real man is worth more than the gloss of a lounge lizard.

Nine—Don't let elder men with a flirtation pat you on the shoulder and take a fatherly interest in you. Those are equally the kind who want to forget they are fathers.

Ten—Don't ignore the man you are sure of while you flirt with another. When you return to the first one you may find him gone.

SUGAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Shipping men declared today that the sugar refiners of this section were due for a big year as the entire 1923 crop of Hawaii would be shipped through this port. The movement of raw sugar to this port is now heavier than at any time since the 1923 crop matured. The crop is estimated at 525,000 tons, including the 18,000 tons which will be handled by Hawaii's one refinery.

SEATTLE, Feb. 28.—Sugar has been jumped up forty points a hundred pounds here. Wholesalers have anticipated that the stocks on hand today and retailers have not yet responded to the moves of the manufacturers.

LABOR SITUATION IN BUILDING IS ACUTE

BY I. V. SHANNON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28.—The labor situation in the building trades in the south is becoming acute and the shortage is not confined to skilled workers. There has been much delay in completing buildings now under construction due to labor shortage. This has been especially acute in the case of plasterers.

A noticeable exodus of negro labor to the northern and eastern industrial centers is in progress. Reports from the Mississippi Delta country are to the effect that the scarcity of farm hands in this movement is expected to be a very material factor in planting, cultivating and harvesting 1923 crops.

LUMBER

PORTLAND, Feb. 28.—The unfilled orders on the bulks of the Oregon Lumber Mills showed an increase today instead of a decrease. The market is remarkably strong and demand shows no sign of slackening.

COTTON CLOTHES

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Distributors of cotton clothes in the middle west reported today that business was exceptionally good in raincoats and gingham. Prices for cotton clothes are expected to advance according to expressions of Marshall Field and Company, Farwell and Company and Carson Pirie Scott.

COAL

ST. PAUL, Feb. 28.—The Northern Pacific railroad is negotiating forty square miles of rich bituminous coal lands in Southwestern Montana and has arranged for a right of way for a branch line 48 miles long near Forsyth to cost $2,000,000 to tap the field. Strip mining will be induced for the first time in North Illinois fields.

HERMAN'S

Presents the Newest Collection of STREET, AFTERNOON & EVENING DRESSES

Ready-for-Wear as Created by

Harry Collins
ART IN DRESS

TOMORROW we will show for the first time the Harry Collins interpretation of the mode for the new season. Cultured women of America accept his judgments, not because they are arbitrary, but because they are based on his art in dress principles. Therefore the arrival of these dresses constitutes a fashion item of the first importance and it is as such that we present this offering.

An evening gown richly delicate in rose and leaf design on the skirt and waist; a street frock of twill with bands of lace cleverly inserted; an afternoon dress with motifs of steel beads with an entirely original effect in the panels—these merely serve to illustrate the interesting details in this February exhibit of Art in Dress.

Collins' gowns Ready-for-Wear are displayed in this store exclusively in this City. It will be observed throughout the collection that moderation of price is compatible with exclusiveness, and we may add that only through special arrangements made by us with the House of Collins are we enabled to present his original creations at these special prices.

Rising Tide Of Prosperity Is Now Evident

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Evidence of a rising tide of prosperity was portrayed today by two different government branches, whose surveys though made for different purposes, resulted in practically identical conclusions.
The Federal Reserve Board, making its monthly report on finance and commerce, told of increases taking place in the production volume of commodities generally, expansion of enterprises, and stiffening prices of basic products, while the Department of Labor, on the basis of responses of its employment agents in 37 states to official queries reported decreased unemployment, tightened labor for labor in nearly all industrial centers and an impending labor shortage in many areas.
The Reserve Board's account of heavier bank lendings, increasing building operations, maximum railroad loadings of freight, particularly forestry products and expanding production in basic industries like steel and cotton weaving, checked completely with the Labor Department's findings.
Industrial employment continued to increase during February and shortages of both skilled and unskilled labor were reported by the textile and steel mills and in the automotive trades. The board said, however, that there was still some unemployment west of the Mississippi river, but generally speaking, important wage increases were reported. Office workers, the board declared, have not been in such great demand, yet in eastern industrial centers this class of workers is being absorbed more rapidly than conditions a few months ago would have indicated.

Reports received by the Reserve Board gave strong indication, it was said, of an active distribution of goods for this season of the year. Sales of department stores in more than a hundred cities were 12 per cent greater than in February a year ago, while, at the same time, inventories fell to show that there has been a piling up of goods on store shelves. The rate of the turnover, therefore, was regarded as having been rapid in the retail trade. In wholesale lines, the review said, there were particularly large sales in recent weeks of dry goods, drugs, hardware and farm implements.
The larger volume of commercial borrowings at banks which are members of the Reserve System was said by the board to be contrary to the usual trend at this season of the year. Commercial loans by representing member banks were three per cent larger February 14 than they were at the end of December while the aggregate on February 14 was 7 per cent higher than the total commercial loans of the same banks in July of last year when evidence of a renewed demand for credit first attracted attention in the Labor Department's summary, the former labor section of the employment service, while noting that the present season is ordinarily the dullest of the year on the farms, reported that it was finding more demand for workers of the type it handles than is normal, and predicted a shortage of farm hands as soon as regular farm operations get into full swing.
Increase in building operations, projected or actual, was said to be taking up the labor supply nearly everywhere. Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, North Carolina, Oregon, and Rhode Island being areas where activities were especially noted.

Seek $5,000,000 Buried Treasure

(Special to The Bee.)
WICHITA, Kas., March 1.—In quest of $5,000,000 in gold, buried three centuries, an adventurous party will start early this spring from Wichita to the rarely penetrated mountains of New Mexico on a treasure hunt beside which the romances of "Treasure Island" and Captain Kidd seem commonplace.
Fred Maryot, French Canadian and former employee of the United States Geological Survey, and Dr. Claude G. Baker, wealthy, Wichita dentist and Maryot's financial backer, will be the principals in the expedition.
An ancient tale, gleaned from the black-letter text of old French documents and records and hinted at in the Frenchman's own history, gave the treasure seekers their knowledge of the rich gold cache.
Says the tale—which history verifies: In 1620 the French government, then in control of the vast tract known as the Louisiana territory, sent a party of 300 to explore the land between Louisiana and the Pacific.
They went up the Rio Grande Valley and traveled inland. Running out of water, they turned back toward the river. They found territory which evidently had been the scene of volcanic disturbance.
In cracks and crevices in the rocks, they found gold. Almost pure gold. It was everywhere.
But before they could get away with the metal, the Frenchmen were attacked by Apaches. They beat the savages off. But fearing another raid, they buried the gold.
The Apaches returned with reinforcements. They slew the Frenchmen save two. These escaped, made their way back to France and told their story to the French court.
Greedy for the yellow metal, the king sent a powerful expedition to recover it. But the expedition never was heard from. The ship doubtless went down at sea with all hands.

SUPPOSED LOCATION OF THE $5,000,000 TREASURE WHICH DR. CLAUDE G. BAKER (ABOVE) AND FRED MARYOT (BELOW) WILL SEEK.

But this tale is not the only clue to the treasure. In 1828 two shepherds were watching their flocks grazing in the rough region near Yuma, N. M.
Suddenly the staff of one of the shepherds sank into the ground. Quickly the two men began to dig.
A deep shaft was disclosed.
Half way down, it was barred by a large, flat rock. The shepherds threw this aside. In the dark passageway they could see two heavy wooden doors with iron bars. At the pit's bottom lay an object resembling an iron crucible. An ancient rawhide ladder crumbled when they touched it.

Terrified, the superstitious shepherds closed the pit and never again visited it. But they told their discovery to a Spaniard who repeated it to Maryot when he was exploring New Mexico for the United States Geological Survey.

DAVIS WOULD TRADE CITIZENSHIP AWAY FROM ISADORA DUNCAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—If Isadora Duncan, the dancer, dislikes American institutions and American ways as much as she pretends, she may soon be relieved of ever bothering about them again.
In view of remarks attributed to her recently as she was sailing from New York for Europe, Secretary Davis, as head of the Government department dealing with naturalization, has asked Attorney General Daugherty if there is not a way in which she can legally be divested forever of her American citizenship.
In the past the dancer's right to enter the United States has been challenged because of her radical utterances, but on every occasion she has been able to establish her status as a citizen.
However, that her recent outburst in New York, when she denounced things American down to and including bootleg liquor, may have provided grounds for preventing her from returning to this country.

REQUESTS INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A resolution President Harding to order an investigation of charges that the Federal Reserve Board, at a secret meeting in Washington on May 18, 1922, decided upon a drastic deflation policy and proceeded to put it in operation without public knowledge, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Charles McNary, Republican, Idaho. It was referred to the Banking Committee.

Bandit Now Emperor

RAISULI

LONDON, March 1.—The world's most famous bandit is now a respectable emperor.
Alamed Ben Mohammed Raisuili, whose kidnapping of an American in 1904 prompted President Roosevelt's ultimatum: Perdicus alive or Raisuili dead, is enforcing peace and order in his good-sized domain in Spanish Morocco.
Nominally he is responsible to the Spanish king. Really he is the big boss.
He is employing the same tactics that he did when his brazen banditry started the world and nearly shook the sultan of Morocco from his throne. When his abduction of Perdicus almost involved this country in serious complications, he left him go free—for a price.
Since then Raisuili has been stirring up his fellow Moroccans to resist Spanish rule.
About 15 months ago a Spanish army ran away. Spanish garrisons were besieged, captured and the soldiers massacred. At General Sarrailh was killed, his body disappearing from the battlefield.
All Spain raged. The common people cursed the very idea of colonial expansion and the threat to the lives of their sons by the corrupted armies of Spain. The government took prompt action against some of the army officers he held responsible for the Moroccan disaster.
It was at the bottom of it all was Raisuili. He was placated for a time.
He was made ruler of the district. To make his position secure, Spain now has completed negotiations with Raisuili, another rebel chief. Under the arrangement the Moroccan released about 400 Spanish prisoners, including 200 women and children. Spain at the same time released 100 Moroccan prisoners. The release of the Spaniards cost the government about one million dollars—mainly tribute money.

FORMER WIFE OF ANDREW MELLON TO WED IN N. Y.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A marriage license was issued today. Harvey Arthur Leen, 30, a New York art dealer and Mrs. Nellie McMullen Mellon, 44, divorced wife of Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, Secretary of the Treasury.
Mrs. Mellon could not be reached at her apartment, 340 Park avenue, but servants stated that she had been informed the marriage would not take place until after this week.
The Mellon divorce proceedings became an international question, following the separation in 1920 and was brought before parliament in England on several occasions. Mr. Mellon obtained a divorce in Pittsburgh in 1922. They were married in 1900.
Mrs. Mellon before her marriage was Nora Mary McMullen, daughter of one of the founders of Guinness Brewing Company of Dublin, Ireland. When Mr. Mellon instituted divorce proceedings against her, she appealed to King George and Parliament, alleging that she had been deprived of her rights as a British citizen. She accused her husband of violating an agreement not to divorce her, made in 1909, under which she received a sum of $1,500,000 and $350,000 for their two children.
Mr. Mellon brought the suit on the grounds of infidelity, naming Alfred George Curphey, an Englishman, as correspondent. Curphey and Captain T. W. Kirkbridge of the British army were arrested in New York in 1911, charged with ignoring subpoenas to appear at the divorce hearing in Pittsburgh, but were released after being held for several months in $25,000 bail. Curphey, it transpired, had been gaining correspondents by Lord Vivian in his divorce from Lady Barbara Vivian in London in 1907.
The appeals of Mrs. Mellon for intervention by the British government were denied by Sir Edward Grey, then secretary of foreign affairs. He held that she had forfeited her British citizenship when she married Mr. Mellon and her citizenship had not been restored despite her two years' residence in England and France after the separation.
Mrs. Mellon returned to the United States in the spring of 1911 and was ejected from the Mellon home in Pittsburgh on court orders obtained by Mr. Mellon. The children were given into his custody.
Her wedding presents and house belongings were also seized. The divorce proceedings were held secret in Pittsburgh in July, 1922, when a special commission that had taken testimony in England, France and cities of the United States had filed its report. By agreement the divorce was granted to Mr. Mellon on grounds of desertion. A report during the summer of 1922 that they had become reconciled in Europe was denied by Mr. Mellon.

PAYSON SMITH ELECTED HEAD

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 28.—Payson Smith of Boston, State Commissioner of Education in Massachusetts was elected head of the Department of Superintendence National Education Association, at today's election. It was announced tonight. M. G. Clark of Sioux City, Iowa, was elected vice-president and William McAndrew of New York, was elected a member of the executive committee.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 50c.

TWO YANKEE FAILURES OF 1922 ONLY VETERANS SIGNED FOR THE SEASON

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Only two Yankee veterans are signed for the coming season. They are Carl Mays and Babe Ruth, the big disappointments of 1922. Both are holdovers and it is lucky for them they are.
Mays led the American League pitchers in 1921, and twirled great ball in the big series with the Giants. Ruth was the sensation of 1921 in swat circles, with 59 home runs, setting a record that batter will be shooting at a long time.
The same shyness, say Maryot and Baker, will serve as guides in the present expedition. They are certain the mysterious pit contains the French gold.
"I'm convinced we'll find the treasure," says Maryot.
"So am I," says Baker.

SWEET POTATOES

Mrs. McCormick Won't Wed Again

BY CHAS. DAVIS
CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Although the necessary year since the divorce has expired and she is free to wed once more, and although her former husband is twice wedded to his operative star wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick has no present intention of marrying again.
Not only that but by her own confession, Mrs. McCormick is waiting for Harold now Ganna Walaska's husband by double marriage—once in Paris and again here in Chicago—to come back to her.
"Somehow, I think," Mrs. McCormick said, "that some time Harold will come back because he needs me."
Her face, as she spoke, and her voice, seemed just a trifle—well say wistful. She did not carry the conviction further but the entire impression left with her auditor was that, believing the time will come when Harold McCormick, now visiting his mother, Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, in her California home, while his bride is touring on the concert stage, will need her, she will wait. She definitely until he returns and says so.
There is little question, however, that the columns of reports that she had planned to marry the plump, now checked Swiss architect, Edward Krenn, the assisted cavalier who accompanied her to America to design her new home here, are unfounded now, regardless of whether there ever was any occasion for them.
Meanwhile Chicago society is all a flutter over the McCormick case. The link hardly was dry on the new wedding certificate after Harold McCormick and Ganna Walaska had been remarried at Lake Forest. In his mother's home, than waging tongues were proclaiming a separation, similar to that in the first romance of the Polish opera singer.
Harold went west with his mother for a good and still persists, despite denials from the lady and the assurance that she will return her bridegroom when the tour ends.
For months it has been accepted, without any information from the couple, that Mrs. McCormick would marry young Krenn. Had he not been seen with her every day since her return to Chicago? It was all settled. The moment the barrier was lifted, then the 12 months had expired and the decree was final—they were to get the marriage license. Even the usually hard-headed newspapers were so well convinced that they posted a guard of assignment men about Mrs. McCormick's home to watch for the arrival of the clergyman. But somehow the clergyman did not arrive. But Krenn eventually did replenish his wardrobe and this revived the interest. Surely he would not buy new expensive clothing if he was not to wed.
Then it was reported that Mrs. McCormick had purchased a new cloak, or a suit, or something. And it was that with white satin. More evidence of a coming wedding. Society once more had its interest on the edge.
But still there was no clergyman and Mr. Edward Krenn was still an eligible, even though poor, young bachelor. He still is for, as Mrs. McCormick confidentially explained: "Somehow, I think, sometime Harold will come back because he needs." And there today the matter rests.

More Obstacles On Nomination Of Jas. McNary

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Further obstacles developed today in the Senate fight on the nomination of James G. McNary, Texas-New Mexico banker to be comptroller of currency and a vote by the Banking Committee went over until Saturday, only one day before the close of Congress.
The companion case of D. H. Crissinger, present comptroller, nomination to be governor of the Federal Reserve Board was disposed of earlier in the day by the Banking Committee with a favorable report to the Senate. Indicating confirmation of Mr. Crissinger with the prospect of a recess appointment of Mr. McNary after adjournment of Congress, as comptroller.
Two meetings were held today by the committee on the McNary case and although a majority of the committee was said to favor a recommendation of confirmation, action went over. The committee agreed, however, to vote Saturday on Mr. McNary's name but members said that the delay made Senate action in the event of a favorable report dubious. It was pointed out that with only one day remaining for action, it would be within the power of a single Senator to block a vote in the Senate.
During the committee's deliberations today, a filibuster, within the committee was threatened for a time by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, chairman of the subcommittee which investigated Mr. McNary's banking career. He insisted upon reading a high stack of papers bearing upon the case, including testimony of bank examiners relating to loans to Mr. McNary and other officers from their El Paso Texas bank, but was prevailed upon finally to refrain from reading them and prepare a synopsis in a formal report to be presented to the committee on Saturday.
HOUSTON, Feb. 28.—Sugar wholesalers today are asking 3 cents a pound of the retail and 11 cents is widely predicted in this section as a result of the firmness shown in the quotations made by the Imperial Sugar Refinery at Sugarland.

Mrs. Rea Jackson Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"I suffered with a rough, red skin and practically all parts of my body were affected. Later pimples began to form which caused severe itching and burning. The pimples were on my face, neck, arms, and back. I tried many remedies but nothing helped. Then I used Cuticura and in a few days the skin was clear and smooth. I am now free from all skin troubles." (Signed) Mrs. Rea Jackson, Laurel Fork, Virginia.

Daily use of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum usually prevents skin troubles.

Sample each free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. M, Malden, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 10c and 50c. Talcum 10c.

Are You Abusing the Courtesy Of a Charge Account?

PAY UP! KEEP YOUR CREDIT GOOD BY TAKING CARE OF YOUR OBLIGATIONS

Unfortunately there are many folks who have a wrong idea about a "Credit Account." Some seem to think it a special dispensation to Pay When They Please. More often people allow the 1st and 10th of the month to pass thoughtlessly, forgetting their responsibilities to those who have been waiting for PAY DAY.

Credit means confidence. It is the basis for the bulk of the world's business. But for you to think lightly of the confidence YOUR MERCHANT places in YOU is a breach of FAITH. If it were not a fairly large percentage of buyers who PAY THEIR BILLS PROMPTLY on the first or not later than the tenth of the month, selling costs would be higher, consequently increased retail prices.

When a merchant extends to you the courtesy of a credit account, it is understood that all bills are due and payable between the 1st and 10th of the month following. NOT partly paid, but paid in full. FORM THE HABIT OF PAYING YOUR BILLS PROMPTLY. You owe it to yourself and to the merchant. Demonstrate to the merchant that you have THE RIGHT to a credit Account.

SAYS ENLARGED STAR NOT NEW

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 28.—"The entire population of the earth would be destroyed," declared Dr. Henry Norris Russell, Professor of Astronomy at Princeton, "if the sun should undergo an increase in magnitude equal to that reported in the case of Beta Ceti of the Constellation of Cetus."

Dr. Russell was commenting today upon the recent observation made by M. Camille Flammarion, a French astronomer, of the change in size of the celestial body Beta Ceti. He does not, however, believe there is any danger of the sun suddenly enlarging, although he says it is no new thing for stars to get brighter and hotter.

Beta Ceti can be seen from any part of the world when the weather is clear, according to Professor Russell, and at the present time can be observed in this locality some time between 8 and 10 p. m., almost any evening for a period of about half an hour. He believes the observation reported by the scientist to be of great astronomical value, and may be of great practical interest, since never before has such a large star changed size.

The star is almost infinitesimally removed from us, and Dr. Russell says it takes eighty years for its light to reach us. It is now very low in the west and southwest, and at the time when it can be seen, just about sunset, it is almost due southwest. The professor was unwilling to make any predictions as to whether the change in Beta Ceti has any significance, but says there is no doubt as to the authenticity of the report, since the Societe Astronomique is one of the most reliable in the world.

Dr. Russell said that the earth would be consumed if the sun should undergo the same change and suddenly grow ten times hotter. However, he maintained that the entire population would be summarily wiped off by the intense heat and that the surface of the earth would be scorched and dried of all moisture. Perhaps the often-debated possibility of the world's coming to an end is not untrue, but until he has observed carefully and received the observations of astronomical stations which have an equipment superior to the one at Princeton, Dr. Russell declines to offer an opinion on the significance of the change in Beta Ceti.

SENECA POLICE CHIEF SOLVES MYSTERY OF HORSE LINIMENT

SENECA, Ill., Feb. 28.—The horse liniment mystery has been solved, but not the egg mystery. A reputable citizen has been buying all the horse liniment in three drug stores, but has no horses, nor does he treat horses. The egg mystery revolved around a man who has sold hundreds of dozens of eggs, but has no hens. Police Chief Patrick Judge pounced on the liniment mystery and in two weeks he has fathomed it. The good citizen met all trains. The Judge watched his bulging pockets. This morning the chief in hiding saw the liniment man at the station some distance back, near the Pullmans. Several passengers alighted for a walk. In a stage whisper the liniment man spoke to a passenger.

"Mister, how would you like to buy a bottle of first-class horse liniment. The passenger displayed interest.

"How much is it?"

"Two dollars and a half for a half pint."

"I'll go you," said the passenger. There were four sales.

The seller produced a bottle of amber liquid which gleamed in the sunlight. "I'm selling you this on one condition," he declared. "You must not drink this till the train get out of town. The police here are all-fired strict. An honest man can't even do legitimate business in Seneca without the la wackling its nose into his affairs."

Consultation with the police magistrate revealed that Judge had no case at all. The citizen had driven an honest bargain. There is no law against selling horse liniment to people on trains.

The egg mystery is still on.

MANY PLANTS ARE NOW REOPENING

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Strong demand for building materials from both big line yards and country retailers has resulted in the reopening of many plants usually closed at this season to replenish stocks of sand, gravel, brick, cement and other staple building materials. Cement and face brick continue very scarce today. Automobile and freight manufacturers continue active in their demand for steel from mills in this section. The latter are booked through the second quarter. Freight cars to be built in this section will require 34,000 tons of bars, plates and shapes.

TRAIN THROWS A FIREMAN TO SAFETY UNDER TENDER

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 23.—Vernon Weiss, of New Tripoli, a fireman on the Lehigh & Schuylkill branch of the Reading, last night slipped and fell as he was trying to board his engine. His foot caught in a frog, and before he could extricate himself a freight train came along and struck him.

He was thrown against his own engine, which was moving slowly, and fell under the tender in such a way that the wheels did not touch him. When he was extricated he was found to be only slightly injured.

No Trace Found Of Delos Thomas

STUART, Fla., Feb. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown of Pittsburgh arrived here today to direct the search for Mrs. Brown's brother, Delos Thomas, aviator, who with Captain Theodore Tiths left Bimini on an airplane last Friday for Stuart and have not since been heard from.

Although both airplanes and motor craft have searched the sea lanes between here and the Bahamas no trace of the flyers have been found. Fishermen who crossed the gulf stream Friday and Saturday reported heavy weather and a rough sea in the Gulf. They gave it as their opinion that if the plane had been forced down on either of these days there was little hope that it had been able to weather the rough seas.

TONS OF FISH SMOTHERED IN LAKE UNDER THICK ICE

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Tons of fish have been smothered in Glenmore Lake, Orange County, by the ice, which covers the lake from shore to shore. The ice is more than two feet thick, and on this is a foot or more of snow.

The community of Florida obtains its water supply from the lake and the water becoming objectionable, investigation was begun by the State Conservation Commission. When a hole was cut through the ice thousands of dead fish came to the surface and were carried over the dam. Hundreds of live fish in search of air filled the holes which were cut.

Much More Proof In Anderson Case; Is Pecora's Claim

Prosecutor Talks of Evidence Still Unpublished Against Anti-Saloon League Leader.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Following examination of two more witnesses yesterday Acting District Attorney Pecora said he would be prepared by tomorrow to ask the grand jury to indict William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, for grand larceny.

Whether Dr. David James Burrell, president of the league, would appear to testify, Mr. Pecora did not know. He had received no word from him, but would be glad to welcome him to the Criminal Courts building, he said. At Dr. Burrell's home in Madison, N. J., it was said last night his physical condition precluded his appearing before the grand jury. Although there is nothing he would like better, as to the subpoena Mr. Pecora's process server left with the sexton of the Marble Collegiate Reformed church last Saturday to be delivered to Dr. Burrell Sunday, it was said he hadn't received it.

Raymond E. Fosdick, accused by Mr. Anderson as one of the wet conspirators who sought to oust him from the league, will not be summoned before the grand jury. Mr. Pecora said he had talked with Mr. Fosdick once since the inquiry started and had learned he had no facts not already in Mr. Pecora's possession.

"I don't need Mr. Fosdick and haven't needed him at any time," he said. "I did not, in fact, talk with Mr. Fosdick until I had questioned Mr. Anderson several times. The message also called upon the 'misguided supporters of the Free State to cease carrying on England's work of terror against their Irish brethren.'"

The conference, attended by 400 delegates representing 45 states, in a cablegram to Estan De Valera declared failure to comply with the request also will be met in this country by a campaign for one million dollars for the support of the Irish Republican Party and demand on President Harding and Congress for recognition of the Irish Republic.

A PUZZLE A DAY

Three girls each had an equal number of pennies. They met nine boys, and gave to each of the nine boys an equal number of pennies, so that all the boys and girls had the same number of pennies. What was the smallest number of pennies that each girl could have had in the beginning?

Yesterday's answer:
In the diagram, the triangle formed by the lines between A, B and C is just one fourth the size of the large square, ABCD, is just one-half the size of the big square. By measuring off A to X and A to Y the same length as A to B, the man found the correct lengths for the sides of his smaller square. A to X to Z to Y to A.

DEMAND CHOICE BY THE IRISH

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The choice between a Republic and free state plebiscite by the Irish people was demanded today by the National Conference of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic on the part of a nation-wide boycott on British products and insurance.

The conference, attended by 400 delegates representing 45 states, in a cablegram to Estan De Valera declared failure to comply with the request also will be met in this country by a campaign for one million dollars for the support of the Irish Republican Party and demand on President Harding and Congress for recognition of the Irish Republic.

Says King Tut's Treasures May Be Stolen Goods

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—When scientists check up the articles taken from Tutankhamen's tomb in the Valley of the Kings in Egypt they may find the majority of them to be stolen goods. Prof. Roger W. Rogers, of Madison, N. J., a member of the faculty of Drew Theological Seminary and author of several works on archaeology, declared in a lecture tonight at the West End Presbyterian church.

Professor Rogers said it was the custom of Egyptian priests to take the materials out of a tomb they feared would be looted and hide them in another tomb. He said he thought the "fuss and furor over the discovery" was overdone, and pointed out that greater discoveries had been made with less trumpeting to a sensational-seeking world. He attributed the widespread publicity given the discovery to the manner in which a certain London newspaper had handled the news about the undertaking.

Big Tim Murphy In Prison, Hopes To Rival "Tut"

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Feb. 27.—Big Tim Murphy, on entering the Federal prison today to serve a four-year sentence for mail robbery, placed his hope in archaeology.

"They had a King Tut what's his name needed down here 3,000 years," the Chicago labor boss remarked, "and look what a come-back he staged."

"I guess I can stand a stretch without losing my Adam's apple."

By nightfall, Big Tim had become convict No. 18,920.

She will be named "British Trade." Four decks will be transformed into show rooms, where stalls and booths will exhibit to possible buyers all kinds of British manufactures, from motor cars to engineering tools.

Sweden Aids Home Builders

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 28.—By a unique system of state loans to persons who desire to establish their own homes, the government of Sweden has contributed 120,000,000 crowns or $22,000,000 to the building of a total of 30,000 homes since 1905, according to calculations made by the Swedish Department of Agriculture.

The "egga hem" literally "own home" movement in Sweden has provided a blessing in enabling young people, and others with limited means, to settle on small farms and to erect cozy dwellings through the help of money loaned at low interest and on easy terms of repayment. Several thousand city homes also have been acquired through the same plan. While the money is loaned by the government, the actual administration of funds is done by associations organized for this purpose, which are responsible for interest payments and amortization.

It is reported that the money thus invested by the government has not only been of immense value in establishing social solidity and contentment in Sweden, but has also brought good economic results through the rise in real estate values since the years before the war.

Rustic Promoter Arrested; Held For Embezzlement

A special from Reidsville, N. C., yesterday afternoon conveyed the information of the arrest in New York city of a rustic promoter, who had formerly cut a wide swath in Rockingham county, N. C., as a school principal, superintendent, "journalist" and Republican politician and promoter. The charge against Countryman is one of embezzlement, and the warrant on which he was taken into custody was secured at the instance of the Boulevard Bank and Trust Company, of Lexington-Spray.

The W. J. Burns Detective Agency located the man wanted in North Carolina and effected his arrest. It is said Countryman declined to go to North Carolina and had determined to require a requisition on the New York governor by the Carolina authorities.

Countryman is said to be a native of Illinois, but lived in Rockingham county in 1919 and was school superintendent (or principal) at Stoneville and later at Spray. After some experience in the educational work, he organized a stock company and undertook the publication of The Signal, a weekly newspaper with Republican political affiliations in which he is said to have been associated with or encouraged by Hon. John Alden Prescott, a local and political supporter of the late Colonel Roosevelt. Before going to Spray, Countryman is said to have been an instructor in war work at a northern university and at one time is credited with claiming that he was the head of the Boy Scouts of America, a claim not established.

Before leaving Lexington-Spray, Countryman is alleged to have negotiated a loan of $125 from the Boulevard Bank and Trust Company, depositing as collateral a government bond or bonds. Later he appeared and gave the bank a check for the $125, took down his bond collateral and departed. Another such transaction is said to have occurred in connection with the Stoneville bank, but the details are not yet available. The check he gave the Lexington-Spray bank is said to have been worthless. After he had departed from the twin-towns of Rockingham, Countryman was heard of or from in Europe. He had recently returned to this country and it is understood was apprehended soon after his arrival.

CANADA REFUSED OTTAWA, MANY ADMISSIONS

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 28.—Canada refused 14,265 American citizens admission to Canada during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1922. Charles Stewart, acting minister of immigration, stated in the House of Lords today. Rejected immigrants from all countries totaled 19,633, he said.

Decision On Dispute Made

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The eight-hour day with time and one half for overtime after the eight hour, was granted another class of railroad employees today by the United States Railroad Labor Board in its decision on the dispute between the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees and a number of carriers.

The rule providing for one day on each week also was granted to this class of employees, both provisions of the decision being effective March 1, as was an increase of two cents an hour in the rate of pay of freight employees and common labor employees about stations. Other requests for increases in pay, some for a return to rates equal to peak war time wages, were refused.

The eight-hour day ruling is similar to that recently granted signal men. Station clerks, freight handlers and express employees under the former ruling were given pro-rata pay for the ninth hour and time and one half after the ninth hour.

Approximately 65,000 employees are affected to the extent of about $2,000,000 annually by the increases in pay granted.

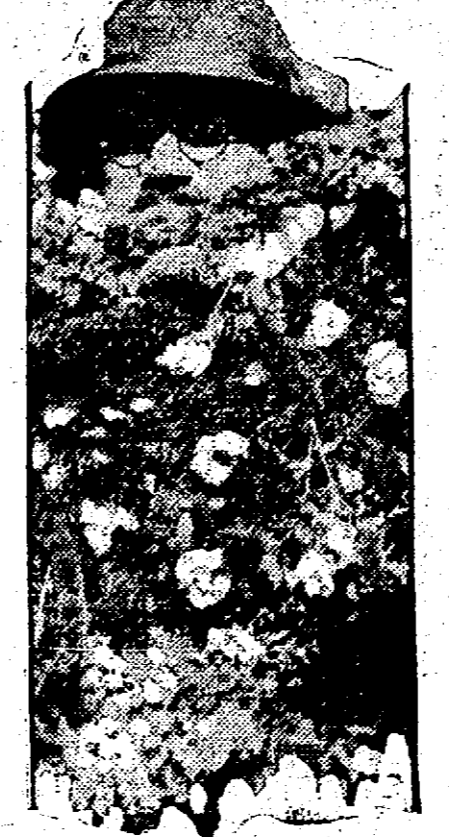

Involved in the new rules of overtime and Sunday work are about 320,000 employees, many among these being of the Brotherhood of Railway Station Employees.

EVERY VISIT OF THE MAILMAN ADDS TO COMPLICATIONS IN—

Envy Them?

Here's a real "aloha" or Hawaiian farewell. William P. Jarrett, first congressman from Hawaii and first Democrat to represent the islands in 21 years, was literally smothered with leis, a Hawaiian way of saying God speed, when he left recently to take up his duties in Washington.

Suppose for instance, right after the date for your wedding to a beautiful heiress whom you loved devotedly had been set, you received a note like this from one little French girl:

"Mon chere Jacques: . . . A bundle of letters I have tied up very carefully in one of my bureau drawers. I wonder how you would like them for a wedding present? Very interesting reading they would make for your wife, Jacques. . . . PAUL FERRIER."

Well, John Alden Prescott receives a letter like that; and it gives him a bad day, and a bad night, and then many more bad hours. You will be interested in every one of the thousand-odd complications in his romance as revealed in the intimate letters of everyone concerned.

Two Maine farmers were discussing recipes for drinkables. "If," said one, "you take a cotton-seed oil barrel, boil it out, fill it up with cider and let it stand for a couple of months, you'll get a fine lot of liquor."

"Any kick to it?" asked the second farmer. "Well," rejoined the first, "I didn't notice any—up to the time I became unconscious."

An 'Incurable' Cripple, Boy, 11, Bolts Hospital And Hikes Back Home

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 27.—After being confined at a hospital here two years, supposed to be suffering from an incurable hip disease, Ernest Kinnaird, eleven, decided yesterday it was time to leave the institution.

Taking advantage of the first opportunity to depart, he dressed in the clothes he wore to the hospital in 1921 and hiked home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnaird. Showing no ill effects of his trip, he was given a warm welcome.

When the hospital authorities mislaid their patient they reported at once to his parents, who informed them that the boy had come home and was all right. He was then officially discharged from the hospital.

EVERY VISIT OF THE MAILMAN ADDS TO COMPLICATIONS IN—

Suppose for instance, right after the date for your wedding to a beautiful heiress whom you loved devotedly had been set, you received a note like this from one little French girl:

"Mon chere Jacques: . . . A bundle of letters I have tied up very carefully in one of my bureau drawers. I wonder how you would like them for a wedding present? Very interesting reading they would make for your wife, Jacques. . . . PAUL FERRIER."

Well, John Alden Prescott receives a letter like that; and it gives him a bad day, and a bad night, and then many more bad hours. You will be interested in every one of the thousand-odd complications in his romance as revealed in the intimate letters of everyone concerned.
